U.S. Leadership In World Is Major Problem

JFK Sees Nation Saddled with Lonely Role of Responsibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the give and take of a fast-moving news conference President Kennedy sometimes crashes through the careful restraints worked out by his official advisers and voices in loud, clear words some hard truth of international relations they would prefer to soft pedal.

In the last few days under the stress of question and answer the President has thus thrown the insight of sharp understanding on one of the problems involved in the present disarray of the Western Alliance. This is the problem of U.S. leadership.

It arises in many different contexts and it appears to be much on the President's mind. A little more than six weeks ago in a year-end review of his administration he stressed the need to get things done even at the cost of disagreement and unhappiness in friendly capitals.

He does not conceive of the United States as being in a popularity contest. He sees it in today's dangerous world as saddled with a lonely responsibility to see that the necessary things get done at the right time and in the right way to save the world from nuclear destruction and from Communist conquest.

The problem as Kennedy sees it—the problem which is at the core of his differences with French President Charles de Gaulle—came clear in a few flashing phrases at his news conference last Thursday. Kennedy was talking about creation of a nuclear force under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Missiles with nuclear warheads may have to be fired on five minutes' notice, he said, and the decision to fire may have to be almost instantaneous.

New Blockade Of Cuba Is Seen Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., says another blockade of Cuba may be necessary if Soviet troops on the Caribbean island cannot be forced out by economic pressure or other means.

Republican National Chairman William Miller says the Kennedy administration should consider re-imposing the naval quarantine that led to removal of Soviet bombers and missiles from Cuba late last year.

These views and a welter of other congressional opinion about Cuba came in a series of statements and television interviews over the weekend. The consensus from members of both parties was that Communist subversion in Latin America is a bigger problem than the Soviet troops in Cuba.

Stennis said in a television interview that steps to combat the Soviet position in Cuba should include "first, economic pressure, and getting the Organization of American States to cooperate on that as far as they will. And I think unless we get results otherwise we will be driven to a blockade and one step will have to follow another unless results are obtained.

"I don't put any timetable on that."

Schooley Finishes 50-Mile Hike with Energy to Spare

HE MADE IT — Larry Schooley turns on the steam as he nears the finish line in yesterday's 50-mile roundtrip hike to Columbus. He ran the last several hundred yards in the best U. S. Marine tradition. Nine started the trek, but Schooley was the only one to finish.

Nine started but only one finished.

Vowing he would complete a 50-mile hike and doing just that yesterday was Larry Schooley, 20, 113½ N. Scioto St. He made the "sole-trying" roundtrip to Columbus in 11 hours and 50 minutes, comparatively better than the some 17 hours required by Atty-Gen. Bobby Kennedy.

Once Around Roundtown

FOUR STUDENTS and one teacher from Teays Valley High School almost completed a 50-mile hike yesterday.

Mike Wilson, John Ridenour and Roger Moody hiked 45 miles before calling it quits because of darkness. Their journey came to end short of its goal on order of their parents.

The teacher, William Salisbury, and Ron Wilkins, the other student, halted their walk at the end of 33 miles.

The party of five departed Teays Valley High School at about 5 a. m., destined for Springfield by way of Darbyville, London and Route 40.

Darkness and a heavy flow of traffic on Route 40 engulfed the hikers by about 7 p. m. The slightly worried parents then decided the trip had gone far enough.

PICKAWAY County basketball fans will get a chance to see former Ashville High School cage star Bob Hoover in action Wednesday night when Morehead State College plays Ohio University at Athens.

A large delegation of home town admirers has already made plans to make the trek to the 6,500 seat Brandon T. Grover Physical Education Center at Athens.

Morehead is right at the top in the rugged Ohio Valley Conference. The winner of the loop is automatically eligible for the NCAA tournament. Hoover is a starter for the rugged Kentucky quintet.

Rhodes' Bills Get Go-Ahead In Legislature

Vote Slated Tuesday On Shakeup in Terms For Key Directors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bills proposed by the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes have the highball sign all along the legislative track.

A major one—a proposal to make the terms of key directors of state departments with statutory terms coincide with the governor's term—comes to a House vote Tuesday afternoon.

Another, to permit the Republican governor to name two GOP members to the State Racing Commission this year, is down for a House vote tonight. Both houses begin their seventh work week at 7:30 p. m.

Certain House approval will send both measures to the Senate. Other administration bills will get legislative hearings as Republican leaders endeavor to push the Rhodes program through the mill as quickly as possible.

Scheduled for hearing Tuesday morning is the administration measure to set up an industrial development program designed to help provide new industrial capital through revenue bonds to help create new jobs.

Also down for hearing Tuesday morning is a bill which has the backing of House Speaker Roger Cloud to permit school districts to levy income taxes. Rhodes has withheld endorsement of the measure but says his administration has it under study.

Another hearing on a measure to create an Ohio Board of Regents is scheduled for Tuesday night.

On tap Wednesday morning is a hearing on the administration's bill which would set up a three-member Ohio institutional building authority to build Golden-Age vil-

Labor Seeks Broad, Quick Cut in Taxes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Organized labor's high command indicated today it wants a broad quick tax cut to help solve the nation's unemployment problem rather than the gradual reduction proposed by President Kennedy.

Labor union chiefs here today for opening sessions of the AFL-CIO Executive Council said they were convinced Kennedy is right in pushing for a tax slash to help the economy, but wrong in the method he has advocated in Congress.

The union leaders are leaning increasingly toward the view the administration should plug for a tax cut that would favor lower bracket taxpayers retroactive to Jan. 1 and omit for the time being any accompanying reforms and loophole plugging.

Walter Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president and head of the Auto Workers Union, called last weekend at a Washington news conference for a $10-billion annual tax cut implemented by the simple formula of granting every taxpayer a $1.53 weekly tax credit.

It was reported that AFL-CIO President George Meany is planning an alternative proposal, but pegged to the same idea of concentrating tax relief on the worker-taxpayer category.

Carpenter Found Allergic to Wood

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—Carpenter Leslie Cox has been pensioned off at 32 because he's allergic to wood.

For 14 years Cox worked for the city parks department. Then he started developing a skin rash whenever he handled certain kinds of wood. The parks department had no other job for him. He was pensioned off.

That means he will draw 3 pounds—$8.40—a week for the next 33 years. Then, at 65, his pension will drop to 2 pounds 11 shillings and 1 penny—slightly over $7. He'll get that for the rest of his life.

Cox says he's going to look for another job—where he doesn't handle wood.

Tax Proposals To Be Divided

Cut, Revision Bills Studied by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said today he will try to have the administration's tax cut and tax revision proposals taken up separately instead of as a package—a move which he said has drawn favorable response from President Kennedy.

Humphrey, assistant Democratic Senate leader from Minnesota, said in an interview: "as of now the tax program is in trouble." He indicated the President may be willing to shoot only for tax cuts this year in the face of rising opposition to his tax program.

There have been calls from both sides of the partisan aisle for the administration to divorce its proposed $13.6-billion tax cut from the proposed tax revisions that would bring the government an estimated $3.4 billion a year.

Over the weekend critics belabored the proposed tax cuts as being either too small to soup up the nation's economy or too inflationary unless offset by cuts in government spending.

Budget Director Kermit Gordon, who has contended that slicing the budget to match tax cuts would be self-defeating, carries the administration program before the tax writing House Ways and Means Committee today.

Humphrey said Kennedy coupled tax cuts with revision at the behest of the Treasury Department.

"This generated a flood of mail on Congress criticizing the tax reform proposal and sabotaging intelligent discussion of the impact on the economy of a tax cut," said Humphrey.

"It is my view that in the national interest we must above all, even at the sacrifice of tax reform get a tax cut bill on the books this year."

Republican opposition to the administration program seemed to be hardening, with some Democratic assistance.

Rep. William Miller of New York, Republican national chairman, said in a Los Angeles interview Saturday: "We Republicans believe it is foolish and perfectly suicidal to grant tax reductions without reducing federal expenditures other than for space and missiles."

Temperatures in New England and upstate New York moderated after Sunday morning subzero readings, including 21 below in Watertown, N.Y., which reported 58 inches of snow.

How Far Does a Housewife Walk during a Day's Work?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—How far does a housewife walk during a normal day's work?

The question was bound to be asked during all this physical fitness business and 50-mile hikes. "Oh, 15 at least," said Ted Simmons, an Atlanta Constitution reporter. "My wife Pat is an average housewife—well, almost average—and to hear her tell it she does a good six or eight miles before lunch."

Simmons was talked into getting a pedometer or walking meter and finding out how much ground she covered during a normal day in a relatively small apartment occupied by themselves and their three children.

"I could tell she was worried right from the start," he wrote. "By 11 a. m. she had only done two and a half miles, and she insists she usually travels that far just trying to get me out of bed."

Another Shutdown Due

City Water Leak Repair Completed

Circleville apparently has whiped its major water leak problem, although it will take at least another 24 hours for an exact determination.

The city's water supply was shut off at about midnight Saturday. Water Department crewmen worked hurriedly to replace a section of pipe at the leak in front of The Herald office. Water was turned back on at about 5 a. m.

Utilities Manager Ervin Leist said air is still being drained off at various water hydrants. He said his department should know by tomorrow if the N. Court St. leak was the one responsible for the loss of about 250,000 gallons of water per day here since early January.

Earlier indications were that the loss could have been caused by more than one leak. However, the leak in front of The Herald, discovered last week, was labeled a major one and perhaps the only one responsible for the huge water escape.

LEIST said a sewer line carrying a goodly amount of escaping water into Hargus Creek was "bone dry" yesterday afternoon and today. This served as an indication that the major leak was corrected following the Saturday night undertaking.

Fortunately no fire calls were registered here during the shutdown period, but one hitch did crop up which caused the Water Department some anxious moments. A fixture in a washroom at The Herald failed to shutoff when the water was turned back on.

The floor of the washroom was flooded, with excess water flowing out a side door and into an alley. The result was the flooding of the excavation where the six-inch water line was being repaired in front of The Herald.

A valve inside the newspaper office was turned off and water was pumped from the excavation. The trouble was corrected by noon yesterday.

Utilities Manager Leist said another shutdown has been scheduled for this coming Saturday night, but not because of a leak within the system. This time it will be for a hook up of the city's new water plant and lines leading from the old pumping station.

Necessary parts and material have been received at the new plant, northwest of the city along Island Road, to allow for the cutin. The Water Department also will utilize this shutdown period to cut in two new valves within the city.

LEIST said the same procedure used Saturday night will be in effect during the scheduled shutoff. Work will begin at about midnight and should be completed within six hours.

The Water Department official urged city residents to exercise

the same precautions they did Saturday night, with special efforts being made to avoid fires of any nature. The Container Corporation again will have its water system on a standby basis in case of an emergency.

Red Test Ban Stand Decried

On-Site Inspection Plan Shunned by U.S.

GENEVA (AP) — The chief American disarmament negotiator said today Soviet Premier Khrushchev's nuclear test ban inspection proposal has taken on the form of an ultimatum and is unacceptable to the United States.

William C. Foster said the United States welcomed Khrushchev's offer to allow two or three on-site inspections per year as showing a genuine desire to move toward a test ban agreement.

"We did not assume the number mentioned by Chairman Khrushchev to be an ultimatum which the United States had no choice but to accept," Foster told the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The United States and Britain demand eight to ten inspections per year as a minimum for an adequately safeguarded treaty.

Foster said the United States "evaluated the Soviet offer of two or three on-site inspections as evidence of a real willingness to open negotiations designed to reach an effective test ban agreement."

"It was, therefore, a very real surprise when we were told literally that the Soviet Union would not negotiate on the question of numbers above two or three."

The frozen Soviet position "has shaken our belief that the Soviet Union really desires agreement," Foster said.

Foster told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov that on-site inspections would not interfere with normal activities in the inspected country and would include complete safeguards against espionage.

He called on Kuznetsov again to discuss details of the inspection procedure. Kuznetsov has refused to negotiate on these details unless the Western powers first accept the two or three inspection quota.

Flu Spread Curbs Visiting To Hospitals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some schools closed and hospitals in several cities suspended visiting hours today in a grim effort to slow the spread of influenza.

Pneumonia-influenza deaths continued above epidemic proportions for the fifth week in figures obtained from 108 cities by the communicable disease center of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Outbreaks of Asian type flu were confirmed in New York, Maryland, North Carolina, Kansas, Michigan and the District of Columbia.

A physician in Albany, N.Y., who recently visited Baltimore was the only confirmed case of Asian flu in upstate New York where at least seven schools closed for part of last week.

The health commission of Milwaukee, Dr. E. R. Krumbiegel, predicted an Asian flu outbreak would reach epidemic proportions in that city.

Visiting hours were suspended until further notice at Memphis, Tenn., city hospitals where more than 500 patients were treated for upper respiratory infections.

2 Small Boats Visit Fugitive

U.S., Venezuelan Warships Near Scene

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui spent the night lying to near Maraca Island off the Brazilian coast as pursuing U.S. and Venezuelan warships sped toward the scene.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said what the Communist captors of the vessel were doing off the Brazilian island or why it stopped there remained a mystery. Two small boats visited the fugitive ship Sunday night but there has been no sign of movement since, the Navy said.

In Washington Edwin M. Martin, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, told House Foreign Affairs subcommittee the ship was anchored just inside Brazilian territorial waters.

The Pentagon fixed the position as 3,000 yards off shore.

Martin said the ship apparently had anchored to await what he called a pickup from Brazil and promised asylum in that country.

He said the freighter's captors evidently felt that they had accomplished their mission by reaching Brazilian waters and that there was no need to take the ship 300 miles farther to the Brazilian port of Belem.

The U.S. Defense Department said a tracking American plane saw the 312-ton fugitive ship stop dead in the water suddenly off the Brazilian island about 7 p. m.

The island lies about 300 miles northwest of the Brazilian port of Belem, where the hijackers had indicated they might seek refuge.

The report from the tracking plane gave no hint of the identity of people in the boats that appeared alongside the freighter.

Communist gunmen stowed away on the Anzoategui early last week and with the help of one or more members of the crew took over the ship Wednesday after it sailed from Venezuela for New Orleans, La., and Houston, Tex.

The hijackers reportedly made the captain and most of his

Guild Agrees To Accord in News Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Ralph Locher announced today the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild has tentatively agreed on terms of a two-year contract with managements of the Plain Dealer and the Press and News.

The mayor's announcement came at the windup of a morning bargaining session at City Hall, aimed at trying to end the 81-day-old strike against the newspapers. Four other unions—printers, teamsters, machinists and maids — still are on strike.

"The settlement of this contract now makes it possible to devote full time in the future meetings with the Teamsters," Locher said. "We are hopeful that that contract as well can be concluded in the near future."

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed. The contract must receive approval of the Guild's international executive board. Then ratification from separate membership units of the Guild is needed.

In another development, a federal mediator said an afternoon meeting between representatives of the papers and the typographical union had been postponed.

Take-off Kicker Added To Super-Fast Plane

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Plans to make a fast plane even faster at take-off were announced today by the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Lockheed spokesmen said the West German government has awarded the firm a contract to develop a means of rocket-launching the 1,500 m.p.h. F104G Super Starfighter.

A rocket booster would enable fully fueled and armed fighters to take off from portable launchers located on tiny clearings in advanced areas.

LEIST said a sewer line carrying a goodly amount of escaping water into Hargus Creek was "bone dry" yesterday afternoon and today. This served as an indication that the major leak was corrected following the Saturday night undertaking.

Fortunately no fire calls were registered here during the shutdown period, but one hitch did crop up which caused the Water Department some anxious moments. A fixture in a washroom at The Herald failed to shutoff when the water was turned back on.

The floor of the washroom was flooded, with excess water flowing out a side door and into an alley. The result was the flooding of the excavation where the six-inch water line was being repaired in front of The Herald.

A valve inside the newspaper office was turned off and water was pumped from the excavation. The trouble was corrected by noon yesterday.

Utilities Manager Leist said another shutdown has been scheduled for this coming Saturday night, but not because of a leak within the system. This time it will be for a hook up of the city's new water plant and lines leading from the old pumping station.

Necessary parts and material have been received at the new plant, northwest of the city along Island Road, to allow for the cutin. The Water Department also will utilize this shutdown period to cut in two new valves within the city.

LEIST said the same procedure used Saturday night will be in effect during the scheduled shutoff. Work will begin at about midnight and should be completed within six hours.

The Water Department official urged city residents to exercise

the same precautions they did Saturday night, with special efforts being made to avoid fires of any nature. The Container Corporation again will have its water system on a standby basis in case of an emergency.

Red Test Ban Stand Decried

On-Site Inspection Plan Shunned by U.S.

GENEVA (AP) — The chief American disarmament negotiator said today Soviet Premier Khrushchev's nuclear test ban inspection proposal has taken on the form of an ultimatum and is unacceptable to the United States.

William C. Foster said the United States welcomed Khrushchev's offer to allow two or three on-site inspections per year as showing a genuine desire to move toward a test ban agreement.

"We did not assume the number mentioned by Chairman Khrushchev to be an ultimatum which the United States had no choice but to accept," Foster told the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The United States and Britain demand eight to ten inspections per year as a minimum for an adequately safeguarded treaty.

Foster said the United States "evaluated the Soviet offer of two or three on-site inspections as evidence of a real willingness to open negotiations designed to reach an effective test ban agreement."

"It was, therefore, a very real surprise when we were told literally that the Soviet Union would not negotiate on the question of numbers above two or three."

The frozen Soviet position "has shaken our belief that the Soviet Union really desires agreement," Foster said.

Foster told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov that on-site inspections would not interfere with normal activities in the inspected country and would include complete safeguards against espionage.

He called on Kuznetsov again to discuss details of the inspection procedure. Kuznetsov has refused to negotiate on these details unless the Western powers first accept the two or three inspection quota.

Flu Spread Curbs Visiting To Hospitals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some schools closed and hospitals in several cities suspended visiting hours today in a grim effort to slow the spread of influenza.

Pneumonia-influenza deaths continued above epidemic proportions for the fifth week in figures obtained from 108 cities by the communicable disease center of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Outbreaks of Asian type flu were confirmed in New York, Maryland, North Carolina, Kansas, Michigan and the District of Columbia.

A physician in Albany, N.Y., who recently visited Baltimore was the only confirmed case of Asian flu in upstate New York where at least seven schools closed for part of last week.

The health commission of Milwaukee, Dr. E. R. Krumbiegel, predicted an Asian flu outbreak would reach epidemic proportions in that city.

Visiting hours were suspended until further notice at Memphis, Tenn., city hospitals where more than 500 patients were treated for upper respiratory infections.

2 Small Boats Visit Fugitive

U.S., Venezuelan Warships Near Scene

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui spent the night lying to near Maraca Island off the Brazilian coast as pursuing U.S. and Venezuelan warships sped toward the scene.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said what the Communist captors of the vessel were doing off the Brazilian island or why it stopped there remained a mystery. Two small boats visited the fugitive ship Sunday night but there has been no sign of movement since, the Navy said.

In Washington Edwin M. Martin, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, told House Foreign Affairs subcommittee the ship was anchored just inside Brazilian territorial waters.

The Pentagon fixed the position as 3,000 yards off shore.

Martin said the ship apparently had anchored to await what he called a pickup from Brazil and promised asylum in that country.

He said the freighter's captors evidently felt that they had accomplished their mission by reaching Brazilian waters and that there was no need to take the ship 300 miles farther to the Brazilian port of Belem.

The U.S. Defense Department said a tracking American plane saw the 3127-ton fugitive ship stop dead in the water suddenly off the Brazilian island about 7 p. m.

The island lies about 300 miles northwest of the Brazilian port of Belem, where the hijackers had indicated they might seek refuge. The report from the tracking plane gave no hint of the identity of people in the boats that appeared alongside the freighter.

Communist gunmen stowed away on the Anzoategui early last week and with the help of one or more members of the crew took over the ship Wednesday after it sailed from Venezuela for New Orleans, La., and Houston, Tex.

The hijackers reportedly made the captain and most of his

Guild Agrees To Accord in News Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Ralph Locher announced today the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild has tentatively agreed on terms of a two-year contract with managements of the Plain Dealer and the Press and News.

The mayor's announcement came at the windup of a morning bargaining session at City Hall, aimed at trying to end the 81-day-old strike against the newspapers. Four other unions—printers, teamsters, machinists and mailers—still are on strike.

"The settlement of this contract now makes it possible to devote full time in the future meetings with the Teamsters," Locher said. "We are hopeful that that contract as well can be concluded in the near future."

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed. The contract must receive approval of the Guild's international executive board. Then ratification from separate membership units of the Guild is needed.

In another development, a federal mediator said an afternoon meeting between representatives of the papers and the typographical union had been postponed.

Take-off Kicker Added To Super-Fast Plane

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Plans to make a fast plane even faster at take-off were announced today by the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Lockheed spokesmen said the West German government has awarded the firm a contract to develop a means of rocket-launching the 1,500 m.p.h. F104G Super Starfighter.

A rocket booster would enable fully fueled and armed fighters to take off from portable launchers located on tiny clearings in advanced areas.

35-man crew captive. President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Communist government branded the hijackers mutineers and appealed to friendly nations with forces in the Caribbean to seize the freighter.

Seizure of the vessel appeared to be part of a Communist attempt to force Betancourt to cancel a visit with President Kennedy in Washington this week. Betancourt went ahead with plans to leave for Puerto Rico today and to fly on to Washington Tuesday.

Although Fidel Castro's regime offered the hijackers asylum in Cuba, the ship was located Saturday off the northeast coast of South America. It appeared to be heading for Brazil, where Portuguese rebels who seized the liner Santa Maria in 1961 found asylum.

Venezuelan destroyers sped along the South American coast, trying to intercept the Anzoategui. The U.S. destroyers Wood and Leary sped out of Trinidad to join in the pursuit but Capt. John H. Dinneen, commander of the U.S. naval station at nearby Chaguaramas, said no orders had been received to stop and board the freighter.

The Brazilian navy stood by to seize the ship if it crossed the three-mile limit but the Brazilian government has indicated it would grant the hijackers asylum.

A U.S. plane fired smoke rockets across the ship's bow Saturday in an effort to turn it toward Puerto Rico. The ship kept heading south.

U.S. Navy planes kept the freighter under constant surveillance.

Unoccupied Home Ruined by Fire

An unoccupied home on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road owned by Raymond Smith, Lockbourne, was heavily damaged by fire at 8:05 p. m. Saturday.

The Ashville Volunteer Fire Department doused the blaze but only a shell was left standing.

Damage to the house was estimated at $6,000 and contents destroyed were valued at $3,500 by the owner.

The fire apparently started near a small wood and coal burning stove. The owner's youthful son and a friend said they had tried to build a fire in the stove earlier in the afternoon.

Deputies William Pontious and Francis McGinnis investigated the fire for the Pickaway County Sheriff's department.

Court Commits Local Man to State Hospital

Common Pleas Judge William Ammer committed Roy William Crosby, formerly of 927 S. Washington St., to the Lima State Hospital Saturday.

Crosby, found guilty Dec. 18, 1962, on charges of assault upon a minor, was recently returned from the state hospital following an observation period. According to Judge Ammer, Crosby was found to be sane, but "a psychopathic offender."

After his indefinite stay at Lima, Crosby will face a sentence of 1-10 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

In other court action last week two men appeared before the court after violating their probation and another was placed on probation on a forced entry charge. They were:

DANIEL Boysel, originally placed on probation in April 1961 for breaking and entering an uninhabited building, was committed to the Lima State Hospital for a 60-day observation period.

Glen Fetherolf, found guilty of violating his probation, received an additional year of probation. He was sentenced in September 1960 on charges of forgery.

Darrell Showalter, indicted by the January session of the Grand Jury, changed his plea to guilty and was placed on probation for three years.

Ohio Medic Helps Check Epidemic

HONOLULU (AP)—A Navy doctor from Ohio who led a team of physicians into the Marshall Islands to battle a polio epidemic Jan. 15 says the epidemic has been checked with the vaccination of some 20,000 island residents.

Capt. William F. Lyons, Coshocton Ohio, reported Sunday that no new cases had been reported in the past five days in the islands, 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. He said 40,000 more injections of Type I polio vaccine will be flown to the islands Tuesday.

Some 120 children between the ages of 8 months and 7 years were hit by the outbreak at its start on the tiny island of Ebeye, near Kwajalein. Three native children died.

Lyons is in charge of the Navy's Pearl Harbor Preventive Medicine Unit No. 6.

Scheduled for Wednesday night is a hearing on a measure to set up an Ohio youth commission.

During the week also, the Senate Liquor Control Committee may wind up work on an administration bill which would change the present four-member bipartisan Liquor Control Board into a three-member liquor control commission.

Further committee work also is scheduled on other major legislation.

A House judiciary subcommittee apparently is in the latter stages of whipping together what is hoped will be a workable substitute for Ohio's present Sunday closing laws.

The House Industry and Labor Committee will tackle again the massive and controversial task of finding a means of restoring the unemployment compensation fund to fiscal solidarity.

The House Finance Committee will work over the highways money bill for the next two years which proposes an appropriation of nearly $739 million.

A quick Senate hearing has been scheduled for Wednesday afternoon on a House-approved bill to prohibit the consumption of 3.2 beer in motor vehicles.

West Berlin Gives Socialists Smashing Confidence Vote

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners gave their Socialist mayor, Willy Brandt, a smashing vote of confidence Sunday in their first municipal election since the Communists built their Berlin wall.

Brandt's anti-Communist Socialists won 89 of the 140 seats in the city's new Parliament. They had 77 deputies in the 133-seat house elected four years ago.

West Berlin's small Communist party, never represented in Parliament, lost a third of its popular vote. This was blamed largely on the wall. The Communist vote declined from 31,570 in 1959 to 20,887 ballots. In percentage of the total votes they decreased from 1.9 to 1.3 per cent.

The Christian Democrats, led by Franz Amrehn, deputy mayor in Brandt's coalition government of Socialists and Christian Democrats, won 41 seats, a drop of 14. They lost over 160,000 votes.

The Free Democrats, not represented in the old house, doubled their strength and entered the new city Parliament with 10 deputies.

Political observers agreed that the city election outcome gave no new key to the West German political situation. Berlin, like most big German cities, is a traditional Socialist stronghold. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party is strong in small towns and rural areas.

The Christian Democrats are largely a Roman Catholic party. West Berlin is predominantly Protestant.

The Socialists and Christian Democrats had formed a government coalition to demonstrate the unified opposition of the city's major political groups to the East German Communists encircling West Berlin.

Brandt in his first post-election comment said his party is ready to form a new government on as broad basis as possible. But he told the Christian Democrats and Free Democrats they must adapt themselves to the Socialists' campaign platform if they join his coalition.

This was viewed as a broad hint that Brandt will not repeat such concessions to the Christian Democrats as his cancellation of a meeting with Premier Khrushchev during the Soviet leader's visit to East Berlin last January.

West Berlin Gives Socialists Smashing Confidence Vote

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners gave their Socialist mayor, Willy Brandt, a smashing vote of confidence Sunday in their first municipal election since the Communists built their Berlin wall.

Brandt's anti-Communist Socialists won 89 of the 140 seats in the city's new Parliament. They had 77 deputies in the 133-seat house elected four years ago.

West Berlin's small Communist party, never represented in Parliament, lost a third of its popular vote. This was blamed largely on the wall. The Communist vote declined from 31,570 in 1959 to 20,887 ballots. In percentage of the total votes they decreased from 1.9 to 1.3 per cent.

Court Commits Local Man to State Hospital

Common Pleas Judge William Ammer committed Roy William Crosby, formerly of 927 S. Washington St., to the Lima State Hospital Saturday.

Crosby, found guilty Dec. 18, 1962, on charges of assault upon a minor, was recently returned from the state hospital following an observation period. According to Judge Ammer, Crosby was found to be sane, but "a psychopathic offender."

After his indefinite stay at Lima, Crosby will face a sentence of 1-10 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

In other court action last week two men appeared before the court after violating their probation and another was placed on probation on a forced entry charge. They were:

DANIEL BOYSEL, originally placed on probation in April 1961 for breaking and entering an uninhabited building, was committed to the Lima State Hospital for a 60-day observation period.

Glen Fetherolf, found guilty of violating his probation, received an additional year of probation. He was sentenced in September 1960 on charges of forgery.

Darrell Showalter, indicted by the January session of the Grand Jury, changed his plea to guilty and was placed on probation for three years.

Ohio Medic Helps Check Epidemic

HONOLULU (AP)—A Navy doctor from Ohio who led a team of physicians into the Marshall Islands to battle a polio epidemic Jan. 15 says the epidemic has been checked with the vaccination of some 20,000 island residents.

Capt. William F. Lyons, Coshocton, Ohio, reported Sunday that no new cases had been reported in the past five days in the islands, 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. He said 40,000 more injections of Type I polio vaccine will be flown to the islands Tuesday.

Some 120 children between the ages of 8 months and 7 years were hit by the outbreak at its start on the tiny island of Ebeye, near Kwajalein. Three native children died.

Lyons is in charge of the Navy's Pearl Harbor Preventive Medicine Unit No. 6.

35-man crew captive. President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Communist government branded the hijackers mutineers and appealed to friendly nations with forces in the Caribbean to seize the freighter.

Seizure of the vessel appeared to be part of a Communist attempt to force Betancourt to cancel a visit with President Kennedy in Washington this week. Betancourt went ahead with plans to leave for Puerto Rico today and to fly on to Washington Tuesday.

Although Fidel Castro's regime offered the hijackers asylum in Cuba, the ship was located Saturday off the northeast coast of South America. It appeared to be heading for Brazil, where Portuguese rebels who seized the liner Santa Maria in 1961 found asylum.

Venezuelan destroyers sped along the South American coast, trying to intercept the Anzoategui.

The U.S. destroyers Wood and Leary sped out of Trinidad to join in the pursuit but Capt. John H. Dinneen, commander of the U.S. naval station at nearby Chaguaramas, said no orders had been received to stop and board the freighter.

The Brazilian navy stood by to seize the ship if it crossed the three-mile limit but the Brazilian government has indicated it would grant the hijackers asylum.

A U.S. plane fired smoke rockets across the ship's bow Saturday in an effort to turn it toward Puerto Rico. The ship kept heading south.

U.S. Navy planes kept the freighter under constant surveillance.

Unoccupied Home Ruined by Fire

An unoccupied home on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road owned by Raymond Smith, Lockbourne, was heavily damaged by fire at 8:05 p. m. Saturday.

The Ashville Volunteer Fire Department doused the blaze but only a shell was left standing.

Damage to the house was estimated at $6,000 and contents destroyed were valued at $3,500 by the owner.

The fire apparently started near a small wood and coal burning stove. The owner's youthful son and a friend said they had tried to build a fire in the stove earlier in the afternoon.

Deputies William Pontious and Francis McGinnis investigated the fire for the Pickaway County Sheriff's department.

Steel Output Still Soaring

Another 2 Million Ton Total Expected

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel output is expected to top two million ingot tons this week for the second straight week, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly said production should exceed last week's estimated 2,015,000 tons, which was the largest tonnage since the week ended April 21, 1962. The industry operated at 65.5 per cent of estimated capacity last week, Steel said.

March steel production won't match the 10.6 million ingot tons of last March, Steel said, but the magazine predicted the month's output probably will top nine million tons for the first time since last April.

Steel's reasons for the prediction: "Seasonal factors and some inventory building are being added to a market that's riding an upturn."

"There won't be a boom to rival last year's," the publication declared, "because buyers have learned that they don't have to do all their stockpiling in the first quarter. They feel the odds are against a strike, so they'll gamble on building their inventories gradually."

"Result: Steelmakers may be spared last year's boom-and-bust cycle. Barring a quick settlement of the labor question, production will continue rising through the second quarter."

Despite the rise in steel output the magazine said, steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting grade scrap held at $28.33 a gross ton.

"Consumers are showing more interest in flat rolled products, and indications are that March deliveries will be up substantially," the trade journal observed.

Steel said structural fabricators report some increased activity. Moderate buying of hot rolled merchant bars continues, but little gain is noted in demand for wire products.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Temperatures remained above freezing over most of the northern counties of Ohio during the night. There was a light freeze over the central and south where skies were generally clear.

All areas are expected to be mild today and Tuesday with temperatures reaching into the 40s over the north and into the 50s over the central and south.

Temperatures climbed to the highest level in more than a week Sunday afternoon. Dayton and Cincinnati were warmest with 45.

The morning weather map shows a boundary of mild weather reaching into sections of Michigan, Wisconsin and Southern Minnesota. Low pressure areas appear over the western Great Plains States and along the Texas Gulf Coast.

The low pressure areas are traveling eastward and eventually will bring a period of rain to Ohio. The first of this rain is indicated for the south and central counties late Tuesday and for the entire state Wednesday.

Cincinnati and Columbus had early morning temperatures of 38 Toledo and Mansfield 35 and Cleveland 34.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS
NORTHERN OHIO—Temperatures will average four to eight degrees above normal. Normal high 35-40. Normal low 19-23. Mild temperatures until colder toward end of week. Rain or snow about Wednesday or Thursday, totaling about one-fourth inch.

SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average three to six degrees above normal. Normal high 40-47, normal low 24-28. Mild, only minor day-to-day changes during week. Rain about mid-week, averaging about one-half inch.

Lakewood Mayor Ill With Chest Pains

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mayor Frank P. Celeste, serving his second term as suburban Lakewood's chief executive was reported in satisfactory condition today at Lakewood Hospital. He was hospitalized Sunday after being stricken with chest pains at his home Saturday night.

Steel Pickup Adds Luster to U.S. Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—The pickup in steel industry operations has added luster to the nation's economic picture.

The improvement in the long-drab steel situation stems largely from demand for the metal by the booming automobile industry but other users also are increasing their orders.

This was a bright spot in a week that otherwise was quite lacking in business developments.

President Kennedy said at his news conference Thursday that if Congress doesn't enact his program of income tax cuts and revisions the chances of a recession will be substantially increased. Congress hasn't begun consideration of his proposals.

Steel output during the week—the latest period for which figures were available—climbed steeply, pushing the total to the highest level since the week ending last April 21. The mills turned out 1,975,000 tons, a gain of 5.4 per cent over the 1,874,000 tons the previous week.

The increase raised the industry's operating rate to an estimated 63.6 per cent of capacity from 60.3 per cent the week before.

Many mills reported the rate of incoming orders is the best since last March. Some of these orders are coming from users who want to build up inventories as a hedge against a possible strike but a good percentage represents metal needed for immediate requirements.

Steel production for January totaled 8,386,000 tons, up about 300,000 tons from December.

The No. 1 producer, U.S. Steel

Corp., said its Elgar Thomson works in Braddock, Pa., will be placed in readiness for possible resumption of operations in March or early April. Except for the foundry, the works have been idle since last June.

The booming automobile industry built its one-millionth passenger car of the year, setting a pace about seven per cent ahead of a year ago.

Production eased off a little during the week to an estimated 152,000 from 153,981 the previous week but was far ahead of the year ago total of 135,085. Sales continued brisk in the first 10 days of February, rising 12 per cent above a year earlier.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges told a news conference the economy continues to advance slowly but added that "an vigorous uplift" is in sight. He predicted some increase in the output of goods and services in this quarter from the $562 billion annual rate of the 1962 fourth quarter.

Robert Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said that if the proposed tax cut doesn't produce the expected boost in economic activity, the economy would be in serious danger. But he added, "We still will be in better shape than if taxes had not been cut at all."

There were these statistical straws in the wind: Retail sales dipped in January from December's record level.

The decline of six-tenths of one per cent was disappointing to those who had looked for a gain that appeared in the making early in the month. Cold, snowy weather in many areas and newspaper strikes in New York City and Cleveland were blamed. The January total was $20,049,000,000, of $123 million from December.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Feb. 18, the 49th day of 1963.

There are 316 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1478, the brother of England's King Edward IV—George, Duke of Clarence—was executed in the Tower of London for treason. The execution is said to have been carried out by drowning him in a large cask of Malmsey wine.

On this day: In 1797, Trinidad in the British West Indies capitulated to a British expedition led by Sir Ralph Abercromby.

In 1861, Jefferson Davis was inaugurated as president of the Confederate States of America at which time "Dixie" was first used as a Confederate song.

In 1915, Germany began its official submarine blockade of Britain during World War I.

In 1939 the Golden Gate International Exposition opened at San Francisco.

In 1956, the first monorail system in the United States made a trial run at Arrowhead Park in Houston, Tex.

Today's birthdays: Actor Dane Clark is 48. Radio-television personality Bill Cullen is 43.

Thought for today: New opinions are always suspected, and usually opposed, without any other reason but because they are not already common—John Locke.

A graduate of Stoutsville High School, Hutchinson entered the Navy in July 1958.

Jerry L. Sherwood, interior communication electrician third class, USN, son of Mrs. Edna P. Sherwood, Kingston, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation, which was part of the combined force of 20 ships engaged in Exercise Saddle Blanket this month off the coast of Southern California.

The five-day exercise dealt mainly with anti-submarine warfare training. The operation centered around a fast carrier striking force, with its wide range of detection and strike capabilities.

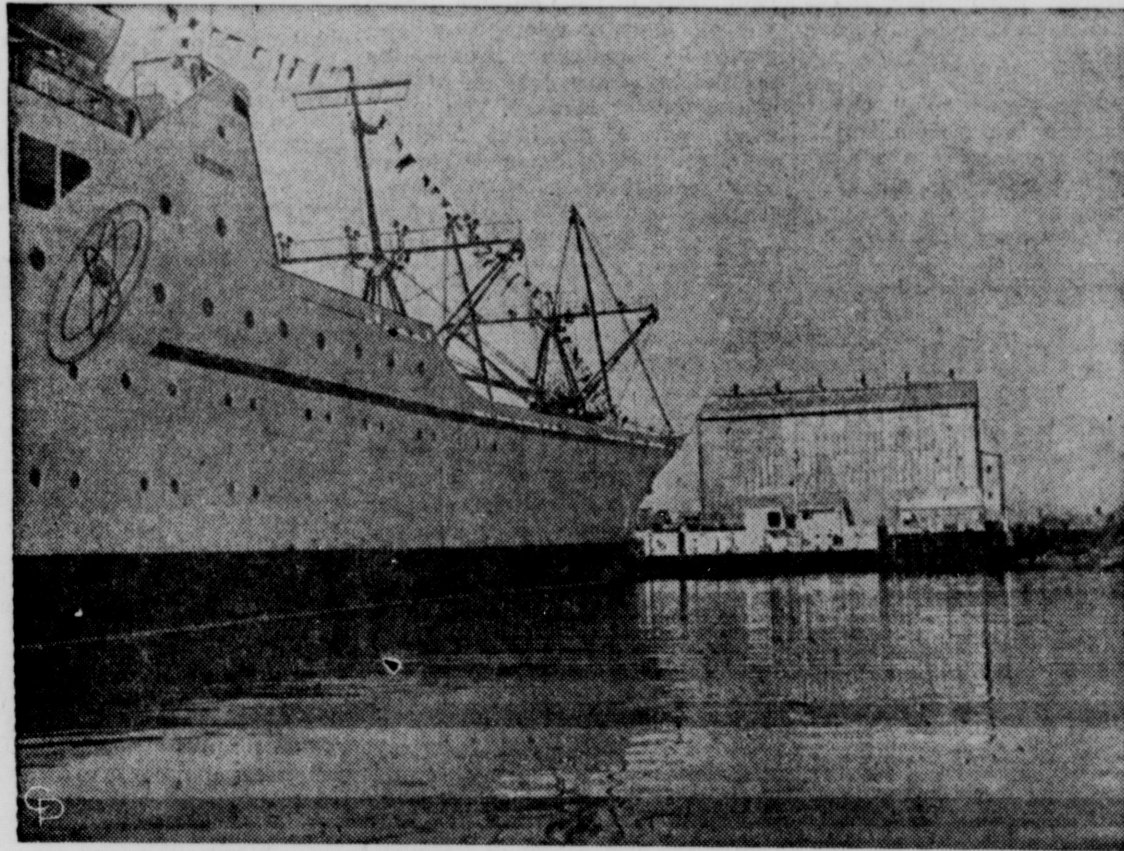

Cruisers, destroyers, submarines and logistics ships also were engaged in the operation. The exercise came under the operational command of Commander First Fleet.

Mount Vernon Judge Suffers Critical Hurts

CONCORD, N.C. (AP)—Mount

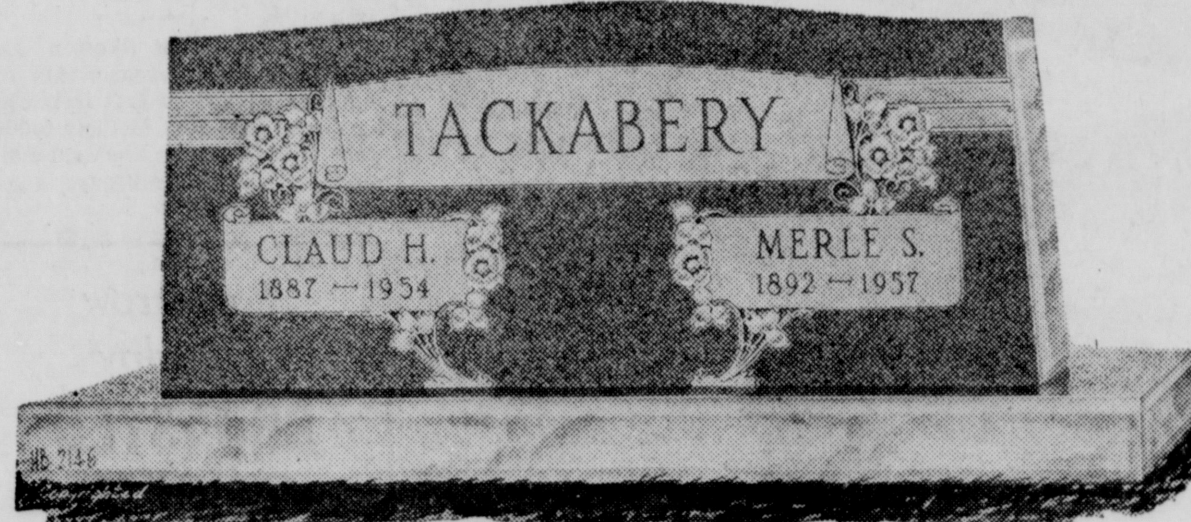

Vernon, Ohio, Municipal Court Judge Evan Perfect Ford remained in very serious condition today at Cabarrus Memorial Hospital. He is suffering from injuries received Saturday in a truck crash on U.S. 610 near here.

Attendants said Judge Ford, 48, suffered a skull fracture when his car slammed into the truck and then into a ditch. He was alone at the time of the accident.

ATOMIC SERVICE STATION—The atom-powered cargo ship Savannah lies at anchor at the world's first atomic service station, that building beyond, at Galveston, Tex. Anchored before it is the nuclear ship tender Atomic Servant. The building houses a holding area for spent uranium fuel, a "hot" materials shop to handle nuclear components, a decontamination room and an instrument shop. The Savannah can cruise some 300,000 miles.

Steel Output Still Soaring

Another 2 Million
Ton Total Expected

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel output is expected to top two million ingot tons this week for the second straight week, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly said production should exceed last week's estimated 2,015,000 tons, which was the largest tonnage since the week ended April 21, 1962. The industry operated at 65.5 per cent of estimated capacity last week, Steel said.

March steel production won't match the 10.6 million ingot tons of last March, Steel said, but the magazine predicted the month's output probably will top nine million tons for the first time since last April.

Steel's reasons for the prediction: "Seasonal factors and some inventory building are being added to a market that's riding an upturn."

"There won't be a boom to rival last year's," the publication declared, "because buyers have learned that they don't have to do all their stockpiling in the first quarter. They feel the odds are against a strike, so they'll gamble on building their inventories gradually."

"Result: Steelmakers may be spared last year's boom-and-bust cycle. Barring a quick settlement of the labor question, production will continue rising through the second quarter."

Despite the rise in steel output the magazine said, steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting grade scrap held at $28.33 a gross ton.

"Consumers are showing more interest in flat rolled products, and indications are that March deliveries will be up substantially," the trade journal observed.

Steel said structural fabricators report some increased activity. Moderate buying of hot rolled merchant bars continues, but little gain is noted in demand for wire products.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Temperatures remained above freezing over most of the northern counties of Ohio during the night. There was a light freeze over the central and south where skies were generally clear.

All areas are expected to be mild today and Tuesday with temperatures reaching into the 40s over the north and into the 50s over the central and south.

Temperatures climbed to the highest level in more than a week Sunday afternoon. Dayton and Cincinnati were warmest with 45.

The morning weather map shows a boundary of mild weather reaching into sections of Michigan, Wisconsin and Southern Minnesota. Low pressure areas appear over the western Great Plains States and along the Texas Gulf Coast.

The low pressure areas are traveling eastward and eventually will bring a period of rain to Ohio. The first of this rain is indicated for the south and central counties late Tuesday and for the entire state Wednesday.

Cincinnati and Columbus had early morning temperatures of 38 Toledo and Mansfield 35 and Cleveland 34.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO—Temperatures will average four to eight degrees above normal. Normal high 35-40. Normal low 19-23. Mild temperatures until colder toward end of week. Rain or snow about Wednesday or Thursday, totaling about one-fourth inch.

SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average three to six degrees above normal. Normal high 40-47, normal low 24-28. Mild, only minor day-to-day changes during week. Rain about mid-week, averaging about one-half inch.

Lakewood Mayor Ill With Chest Pains

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Frank P. Celeste, serving his second term as suburban Lakewood's chief executive was reported in satisfactory condition today at Lakewood Hospital. He was hospitalized Sunday after being stricken with chest pains at his home Saturday night.

Steel Pickup Adds Luster to U.S. Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—The pickup in steel industry operations has added luster to the nation's economic picture.

The improvement in the long-drag steel situation stems largely from demand for the metal by the booming automobile industry but other users also are increasing their orders.

This was a bright spot in a week that otherwise was quite lacking in business developments.

President Kennedy said at his news conference Thursday that if Congress doesn't enact his program of income tax cuts and revisions the chances of a recession will be substantially increased. Congress hasn't begun consideration of his proposals.

Steel output during the week—the latest period for which figures were available—climbed steeply, pushing the total to the highest level since the week ending last April 21. The mills turned out 1,975,000 tons, a gain of 5.4 per cent over the 1,874,000 tons the previous week.

The increase raised the industry's operating rate to an estimated 63.6 per cent of capacity from 60.3 per cent the week before.

Many mills reported the rate of incoming orders is the best since last March. Some of these orders are coming from users who want to build up inventories as a hedge against a possible strike but a good percentage represents metal needed for immediate requirements.

Steel production for January totaled 8,386,000 tons, up about 300,000 tons from December. The No. 1 producer, U.S. Steel

Corp. said its Elgar Thomson works in Braddock, Pa., will be placed in readiness for possible resumption of operations in March or early April. Except for the foundry, the works have been idle since last June.

The booming automobile industry built its one-millionth passenger car of the year, setting a pace about seven per cent ahead of a year ago.

Production eased off a little during the week to an estimated 152,000 from 153,981 the previous week but was far ahead of the year ago total of 135,085. Sales continued brisk in the first 10 days of February, rising 12 per cent above a year earlier.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges told a news conference the economy continues to advance slowly but added that "an vigorous uplift" is in sight. He predicted some increase in the output of goods and services in this quarter from the $562 billion annual rate of the 1962 fourth quarter.

Robert Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said that if the proposed tax cut doesn't produce the expected boost in economic activity, the economy would be in serious danger. But he added, "We still will be in better shape than if taxes had not been cut at all."

There were these statistical straws in the wind:

Retail sales dipped in January from December's record level.

The decline of six-tenths of one per cent was disappointing to those who had looked for a gain that appeared in the making early in the month. Cold, snowy weather in many areas and newspaper strikes in New York City and Cleveland were blamed. The January total was $20,049,000,000, of $123 million from December.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Feb. 18, the 49th day of 1963.

There are 316 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1478, the brother of England's King Edward IV—George, Duke of Clarence—was executed in the Tower of London for treason. The execution is said to have been carried out by drowning him in a large cask of Malmsey wine.

On this day:

In 1797, Trinidad in the British West Indies capitulated to a British expedition led by Sir Ralph Abercromby.

In 1861, Jefferson Davis was inaugurated as president of the Confederate States of America at which time "Dixie" was first used as a Confederate song.

In 1915, Germany began its official submarine blockade of Britain during World War I.

In 1939 the Golden Gate International Exposition opened at San Francisco.

In 1956, the first monorail system in the United States made a trial run at Arrowhead Park in Houston, Tex.

Today's birthdays:

Actor Dane Clark is 48. Radio-television personality Bill Cullen is 43.

Thought for today:

New opinions are always suspected, and usually opposed, without any other reason but because they are not already common—John Locke.

Pvt. Bobby D. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse O. Turner, Route 3, is undergoing advanced individual armor training in Co. E. of the 1st Training Brigade's 2nd Battalion at the U. S. Army Training Center, Fort Knox, Ky.

The 1st Brigade, a major unit of USATCA, conducts eight weeks of advanced training for troops who have completed their initial eight weeks of basic combat training.

As an Armor trainee, Turner will be taught to drive the tank, load its 105mm gun and fire the weapon. He is scheduled to complete his training March 28.

THE 21-year-old soldier entered the Army last October and completed basic training at Fort Knox.

Elmer D. Hutchinson, storekeeper third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hutchinson, Route 1, Stoutsville, is stationed at Naval Supply Depot, Yokosuka, Japan.

A graduate of Stoutsville High School, Hutchinson entered the Navy in July 1958.

Jerry L. Sherwood, interior communication electrician third class, USN, son of Mrs. Edna P. Sherwood, Kingston, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation, which was part of the combined force of 20 ships engaged in Exercise Saddle Blanket this month off the coast of Southern California.

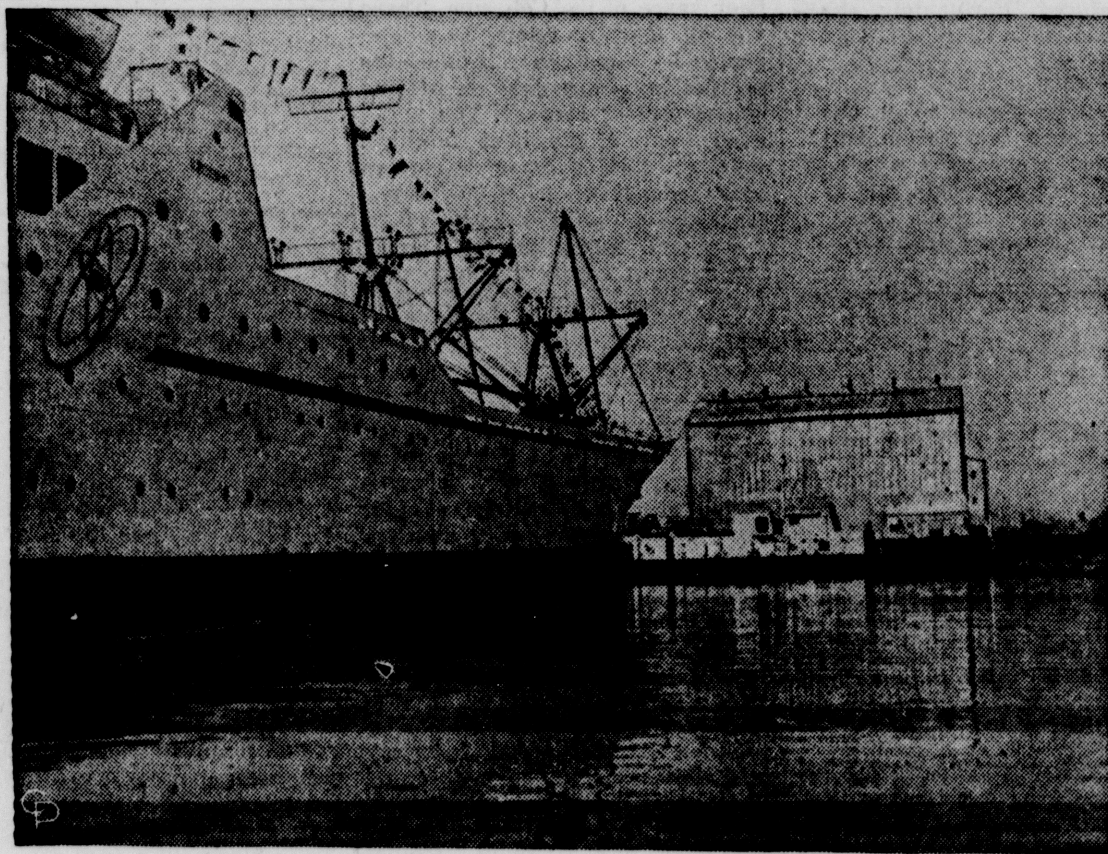

The five-day exercise dealt mainly with anti-submarine warfare training. The operation centered around a fast carrier striking force, with its wide range of detection and strike capabilities.

Cruisers, destroyers, submarines and logistics ships also were engaged in the operation. The exercise came under the operational command of Commander First Fleet.

Mount Vernon Judge Suffers Critical Hurts

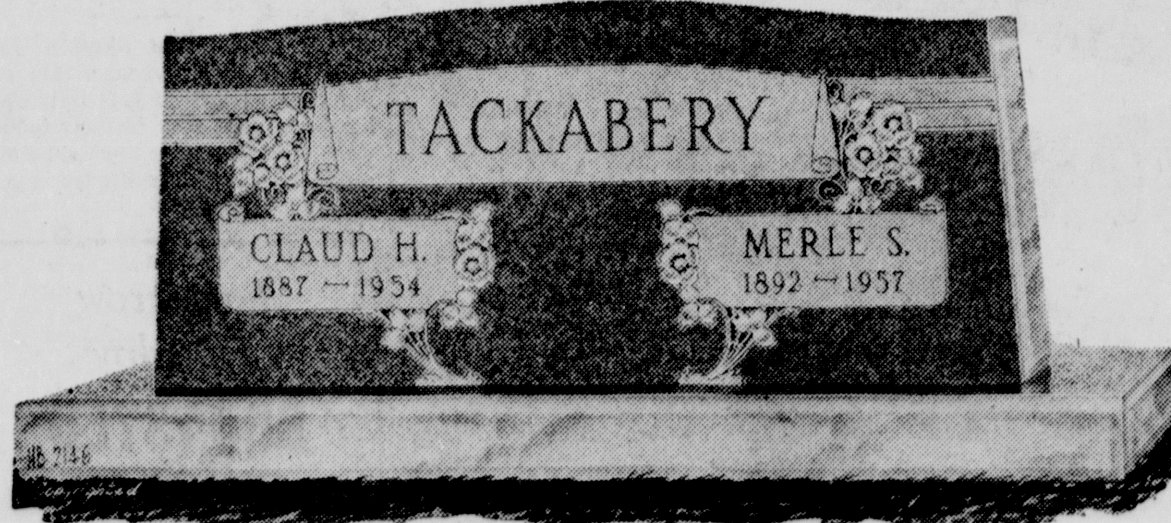

CONCORD, N.C. (AP)—Mount Vernon, Ohio, Municipal Court Judge Evan Perfect Ford remained in very serious condition today at Cabarrus Memorial Hospital. He is suffering from injuries received Saturday in a truck crash on U.S. 610 near here.

Attendants said Judge Ford, 48, suffered a skull fracture when his car slammed into the truck and then into a ditch. He was alone at the time of the accident.

ATOMIC SERVICE STATION—The atom-powered cargo ship Savannah lies at anchor at the world's first atomic service station, that building beyond, at Galveston, Tex. Anchored before it is the nuclear ship tender Atomic Servant. The building houses a holding area for spent uranium fuel, a "hot" materials shop to handle nuclear components, a decontamination room and an instrument shop. The Savannah can cruise some 300,000 miles.

Monday Morning Blues

Researchers at the University of Michigan School of Public Health are working on a project which could result in a new man making his appearance on the factory assembly line, in the foundry and even in the office. His title would be immunotoxicologist and his duties would be to immunize each worker against his particular reason for hating his job.

It all began with Monday morning absenteeism. The beginning - of - the - week blues is more than an industrial legend. Companies in many fields consistently record greater absenteeism and lower efficiency on Mondays than on any other day of the week, and scientists believe they have found the reason.

A large number of metals and some plastics produce a toxic effect on persons working around them. The body, however, is able to adapt itself to the toxicity through an immunization process not yet fully understood. The weekend breaks up the immunity and the toxic effect is apparent again the following Monday.

Office workers who are discontented in their jobs might have the same type of reaction from surroundings they would rather not return to after an enjoyable weekend. But as the week goes on, the individual accustoms himself to imagined unpleasantness.

If science is able to find a way to immunize workers against environmental hazard, real or imagined, which the University of Michigan study group regards as a distinct possibility, amazing improvements in employee happiness, business productivity and labor-management relations could result.

That immuno-what's his name-could be the most important man on the payroll.

Nutrition Lacking

Americans like to think of themselves as the best-fed, best-clothed people in the world, and certainly the food and clothing are here in abundance to make this image reality, but it just isn't so. Not as far as nutrition goes, anyway.

A nutritionist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture has published in the Journal of Home Economics the results of a survey she made of American teenagers and their food intake. It reads like one would imagine a similar survey of the children of China or the Congo would read.

In one study of 800 children aged 13 to 15, one-half the girls and two of every ten boys do not receive the minimum calcium requirement. Half the girls also need more iron and nearly half are short of vitamin C. The minimum doses used for comparison in the survey are those recommended by the Foods and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council.

One study does not make a crisis, but this is not the first time the eating habits of adolescents have been attacked in the U. S. The decade following World War II brought forth many surveys of the irregular eating habits of a generation which seemed to exist on banana splits and chocolate bars.

Well, modern boys and girls (especially the girls) seem to have learned their lessons as far as sweets are concerned. Calory starvation is now the fad, not over-indulgence. Breakfast is almost universally avoided, if possible, and social activities seem to have preempted the time usually allocated to lunch and dinner.

Which makes the United States just about the first land of plenty to starve its children, deliberately, with no malice aforethought, and to the apparent satisfaction of all concerned but the nutritionists. Isn't it about time some meat was put on the bones of those 75-pound weaklings?

Newspapers' Responsibility

"The government couldn't manage the news if it tried to. I know. I tried."

The speaker was James C. Hagerty, press secretary to former President Eisenhower and now in broadcasting. His point was that Washington is so blanketed with reporters and there are so many government officials willing to "leak" news that it is impossible to keep anything secret.

The fact that so much is known of the present administration's attempts to manipulate the news—use it as part of the cold war weaponry—shows that the manipulation is not entirely successful. But the danger in leaked news is distortion.

It comes from those who may be imperfectly informed or who, for reasons of their own, prefer that only one aspect be emphasized. If such stories are not corrected by responsible officials the public is misinformed. If they are corrected the initial secrecy is revealed and suspicion is created about both the government and the facts.

It may not be possible to manage the news, but such is being attempted, and the attempts may have results almost as grave as total secrecy. The public expects complete candor on all matters not involving the national security.

It is the task of newspapers to see that the public's right are respected.

Housewife Is Good Manager

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The American housewife is one of the world's best financial managers. Although she handles 90 percent of family expenditures, she spends only about $7 a week on herself.

Why those "good old days" went sour: A century ago the average man in this country worked 70 hours a week. Today he works from 39 to 40 hours—with time off for "coffee breaks."

In Paris, by calling certain numbers, you can get advice if you are lonely and despondent, a recipe if you don't know what to cook for dinner, or information about the atom bomb and nuclear physics. You can call a fourth number and your telephone will tell you a recorded joke, then emit wild yelps of canned laughter.

The best way to safeguard your car is to lock it. Nine times out of 10, car thieves prey on unlocked cars. Some 90 per cent of stolen cars are eventually recovered; most of the others are dismantled or stripped by professional gangs.

A survey indicates that up to 50 per cent of the chronically unemployed are "functionally illiterate"—they can't read and write well enough to learn new skills.

Ex-President Calvin Coolidge received $1 a word for articles written after he left the White House, but Ernest Hemingway is said to have been perhaps the world's highest paid author. In 1960 a magazine paid him $30,000 for a 2,000 word piece on bullfighting. That's $15 a word.

The American divorce rate is seven times what it was 100 years ago. In the last 20 years our illegitimacy and juvenile delinquency rates have nearly tripled.

All our clothing used to come from plants and animals. Now 11 of the 36 pounds of textile material each of us uses each year comes from laboratory-made materials.

It was Irvin S. Cobb who observed, "Learn all the rules, every one of them, so that you will know how to break them."

Objects seen in the sky resembling two huge silver cigars joined in a V shape are probably balloons that Goodyear Aircraft Corporation is building for scientific research. The novel design gives the helium-filled balloons unusual stability in all kinds of weather.

Guide to Better Health

By HARRY J. JOHNSON, M.D.

There is a growing army of pill takers who rely injudiciously on a wide variety of common drugs to help them overcome temporary difficulties.

Consider, for example, so-called tranquilizers. It has been estimated reliably that more than twenty million Americans are regular users of these. While tranquilizer pills are one of the notable medical discoveries of this generation, such a wide use of them is unwarranted. The enormous consumption is typical of the way we have gone to great extremes with drugs supposed to help us eat better, lose weight, gain weight, stay awake, fall asleep, fight indigestion and constipation, or generally get a "lift" or, as in the case of tranquilizers, a "let-down."

I am disturbed by this, because I believe that far too many of us have come to expect the drugs to perform medical and psychic miracles which often, disappointingly, do not take place. Therefore, the drugs tend to do more harm than good.

Tranquilizers play an important role in medical care when properly administered. They came into prominence because experiments had shown that the drug they contain had a remarkably calming effect on severely disturbed mental patients.

But today, too many persons are taking tranquilizers as routinely as aspirin. Many of them say it helps them meet the "stress" of modern life. It amuses and amazes me to hear so many persons talk like that. If you think your days are filled with stress, think of the men and women who crossed the continent in covered wagons, never knowing they'd be scalped, left to die under a broiling sun, or buried alive under an avalanche in the Rockies.

You'll be a lot better off if you learn to face and solve your problems. You'll be a lot better off if you "calm" yourself with more sleep, more relaxation, and more exercise.

There is an enormous and gratifying sense of achievement in learning to do what you yourself need to do. It's one of the great joys of living, and you can't do it with a pill.

Sleeping pills also seem to have become a national fad. This habit is bad because (1) it prevents you from changing your sleep habits so that you learn to fall asleep without difficulty, and (2) it becomes a habitual practice as you build up a resistance to sleeping pills, thereby generating a cycle which may become a serious health hazard.

Even if you think you can't sleep, the best thing you can do for your general well-being is to go to bed, lie down, lie still, and turn out the lights.

The idea that you can take some kind of pill to reduce is ridiculous. There are some medications which doctors can use to help you lose weight. But these drugs are employed as necessary aids, not magic, in an over-all weight-reducing program which is tailored to a specific individual's needs.

Actually, any effective reducing medicine is too dangerous to be used except under the close observation of a physician; those that are harmless are usually ineffective.

There's only one way to lose weight. You must eat less!

A&P SUPER MARKET ISLAND ROAD

The Business World

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market last week coped with some profit-taking and then resumed its advance, making a new recovery high.

Rallies by steels and rails featured the week's trading. Most motors shied away from recent highs but Chrysler displayed a new outburst of strength.

It was the ninth straight weekly rise by The Associated Press average which, even during the prior week's irregularity, posted a slight gain due to advances by selected blue chips.

The AP average of 60 stocks this week rose 2.5 to 259.7.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 6.15 at 686.07.

The latest gain in weekly steel production put it at the highest level since last April. Meanwhile, most steel companies described incoming business as the best in 11 months. Steel shares responded to this and rails went along with them, topping their 1961 highs in the Dow average and flashing a theoretical signal for further advance according to analysts.

All the week's news was not good, however. American Telephone disappointed Wall Street by declaring its regular dividend instead of raising it. Despite a decline in AT&T, the stock list that day scored its second biggest advance of 1963.

On Friday, too, the market had to absorb the bad news of a dividend cut by Kennecott which sank sharply along with most other major copper producers. It was characteristic of this year's market that instead of being panicked by news that the nation's biggest copper producer had pared its dividend, the list actually made an irregular advance.

Volume this week rose to 22,608,490 shares from 20,210,540 the prior week, and was the largest since the week ended Jan. 26 when 23,313,478 shares changed hands. As the week ended, the market had made up the worst of the sharp drop of 1962 and stood at the levels of late March last year, just before stocks began to slip below support levels and go into the tail-spin which was climaxed by "Black Monday," May 28. Because of the market's accomplishment there was underlying confidence in the opinions of most market analysts, although a few had their fingers crossed.

The irregularity typical of February has been apparent thus far this month. Industrials began the week with a sharp decline on Monday.

Tuesday was Lincoln's Birthday and semi-holiday conditions prevailed.

On Wednesday came the week's biggest rise, more than wiping out earlier losses. Stocks continued to move upward on Thursday when volume swelled to 5.64 million shares, the greatest of 1963. Friday brought a lessening of transactions and the Kennecott dividend cut.

Snow Test for Cliches

By John Chamberlain

If you want to know what is wrong with all the learned sociological theories about Americans, the place to find out is on a ski slope in Vermont.

The most obvious cliché which the ski crowds expose as pure, unadulterated Grade A hokum is the one about a sedentary population given to the contemplation of spectator sports. Watching young and old at Vermont's Stratton Mountain last week-end, I was struck all over again by the fact that skiing has practically no age limits. There were five-year-olds at it on the easier slopes, and there were active 65-year-olds picking the 5-year-olds up. Nor were the 65-year-olds necessarily all experts; most of them, in fact, were just people who had come from all over for the fun.

It is not fair, of course, to base a generalization on the evidence of a single sociological sample. So, if you really believe the canard that we, as a nation, are given merely to watching a few professionals indulge in sports, drop in on the annual boat show in New York when it is next taking the floor space of the Coliseum. There you will learn that some 40 million people — almost a fourth of the population — are gone on boating of one sort or another. You will even hear of two-boat families. And, to take another excursion away from that Vermont ski slope, there are also the skaters, roller, figure and racing-blade, a crowd just short of twenty million people when I last heard a count. Then there are the bowlers, almost too numerous to tabulate.

When the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was preparing himself for the job of braving the terrors of the Cold War, he used to say that every man, if he were indeed worth being called a man, must have some way of measuring his own personal responses to the Bright Face of Danger. Herman Melville's Captain Ahab chased Moby Dick, the vicious White Whale. Mr. Dulles himself liked to sail a boat from Lake Ontario down the St. Lawrence River and out into the turbulent Atlantic Ocean before returning to his starting point by way of the Hudson River and a couple of canals. The skiers at Stratton in Vermont were, each in his or her own way, measuring themselves against the mountain which, come to think of it, bears some resemblance to a White Whale as it looms threateningly above you.

A second sociological cliché that bites the dust when you watch the throngs at a ski resort is the one about Americans constituting a "lonely crowd." As put forth by the academicians, the "lonely crowd" huddles together for psychological warmth, but really fails to emerge from a devastating condition of fragmented personal isolation.

Well, the "lonely crowd" at a ski center breaks down into animated family groups. Even the "single" who calls for a companion on the chair lift usually turns out to be a chatty, out-giving fellow, whether he is a broker from Greenwich, Conn., or a garage mechanic from relatively distant Buffalo, N. Y. Lonely? The ski crowd doesn't know what the word means.

The third cliché, which is now as old as the late Scandinavian-American philosopher Thorstein Veblen, is the one about the "conspicuous consumption" of the "idle rich." This still gets repeated in the classrooms of American colleges. Well, rich people go skiing — at least you assume that they are rich if they turn up in a Lincoln Continental or a Cadillac. But they are no more — and no less — conspicuous on the slopes than the blonde schuss-bunny who, on working days of the week, holds down a $65-a-week office receptionist's job. The raiment worn on the slopes can be startling, even male skiers whizz by in the colorful skin-tights that have replaced the baggy ski pants of a generation ago. As for the skis themselves, they have become a costly and magnificent article running into real money. It is not the rich who have been buying slick runners made of aluminum and plastic; it is the great middle class. "Conspicuous consumption," today, is something for practically everybody if he or she happens to care about it.

As one who tries to keep up with so-called intellectual currents, I spend a good amount of time with the works of the academic sociologists. Their books and articles, usually written in a barbarous jargon known to critics as "soc-speak" are seldom worth the effort. The academic sociologists rarely make any contact with the common life. What they need to do is to give up their long flirtation with I.B.M. machines and go off for a few good ski week-ends with live human beings.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Factions but not much action, all around. At home— Nothing much so far in 1963 seems to have gotten off the ground in Washington except the Republicans' attack on the Kennedy administration's handling of foreign policy, particularly Cuba. Abroad—

Spat and chat in the allied family. President Kennedy says it's due in part to the Russians, because they're quieter. He said "we're enjoying the luxury of internal dissension." But the spat, if it gets bad enough, can wreck the family.

Spat and chat in the Communist family, too. Russians and Red Chinese call names, express disgust with each other but Premier Khrushchev drools over the Chinese ambassador. If the spat gets bad enough, goodbye Communist family.

Grumbling but not much excitement in Congress when Kennedy sends his record peacetime budget: $98.8 billion. The usual cries: expenses must be cut. Not much fire in the fuss.

Kennedy sends Congress his aid to education program, will soon send one on medical care for the aged. Comparative calm in Congress. Neither program seems to have much chance. No wonder. Kennedy himself was skeptical of their chances before he ever sent them to the Hill. Kennedy sends Congress his tax-cutting program to enable consumers to buy more and business to invest more. This got the most reaction and much, if not most of it, has been sour.

To help it, Kennedy supporters hit on the feeble idea of trying to add two more members to the conservative Senate Finance Committee to liberalize it. The result: defeat. This is not fighting, this is sparring.

Business chimes in on the opposite side. Ladd Plumley, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, says the plan favors the consumer too much. Amen, says the National Association of Manufacturers.

The only real heat so far this year comes from the Republican criticism of Kennedy's foreign doings. It's been unceasing. Irritated, Kennedy is having his supporters tell the Republicans to pipe down. They won't. He stays mild. In short, Kennedy isn't showing any more sign of tough fighting—the kind former President Truman used to enjoy—than he did in 1961 or 1962.

The Kennedy administration got into tiffs with Canada and France. With Canada—because it didn't put American nuclear warheads on American missiles there. With France — because President Charles de Gaulle snubbed the Kennedy offer of missiles on which he'd have to put his own warheads, of which he doesn't have any.

At the same time De Gaulle, whose high-held nose was pointed at the British, too, kept them out of the Common Market. The result: ever since the Allies have been scrambling for a solution which they haven't found.

Kennedy is trying to set up what he calls a multinational nuclear force although no one—and at this moment perhaps not Kennedy himself—seems to know how this would work because American law requires American control of American nuclear weapons no matter where they are.

And if things weren't boxed and bottled enough, the Americans and Russians are back where they started years ago on banning nuclear tests: in a sparring match.

Ohio Solon Sees 'Collusion' Between Rails, Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, and Toledo port officials are sparking a campaign in Congress against what Ashley calls "collusion between federal agencies and the railroads."

Ashley's complaint is that the railroads are undercutting Great Lakes shipping interests by granting the government substantially reduced rates under a section of the Interstate Commerce Act.

This means, he said, that the midwest is getting only a fraction of the seaborne transportation that it should of military vehicles and hardware produced in the midwest.

Section 22 of the Interstate Commerce Act allows the government to negotiate special rates on federal shipments. It was used in the past primarily for military goods. In recent years, however, federal agencies other than the Defense Department have been taking advantage of it more.

Ashley and the Todd - Lucas County Port Authority of Toledo contend the situation is getting worse.

The result, said the port authority in a 67-page report being distributed to members of Congress, have been "disastrous to private industry and to our national transportation system."

Louis C. Purdy, general manager of the port authority, came to Washington to help drum up support for legislation restricting use of Section 22.

"My task," Ashley said, "is to help take the leadership in mobilizing the Congress and coordinating the efforts of the many groups interested in bringing about a change in the law."

The port authority's report said "the government's improper utilization of this statute in rate negotiations produces cut - throat competition among carriers" and results in higher rates to private shippers to make up for the cheaper ones granted the government.

The report said Section 22, stemmed from certain compensation granted by the railroads in return for $130 million in land grants from the government when the railroads were expanding westward.

The rule, the report said, frees the government from economic controls which govern private shippers under the Interstate Commerce Act.

It said competition is becoming more vicious among water carriers, motor carriers, air and pipeline carriers as a result of the provision.

The port authority favors a proposal put forth by Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., to require government agencies to certify their shipments affect the national security before they can qualify for the reduced rate.

Great quantities of agricultural commodities have been shipped by the government under the cut rates, Ashley said.

Both Ashley and the port authority said it is important that interest favoring restriction of Section 22 agree on legislation before it is offered to Congress. Meetings to draft a bill are planned next week, Ashley said.

"The present discrimination in rates, is perfectly evident as far as the midwestern states are concerned," Ashley said. "The injury to normal channels of trade is serious."

"Great Lakes ports, even in the immediate vicinity of manufacturing plants producing military equipment, are being bypassed for east coast ports because of the cheaper rail rates to eastern shipping points."

He contended the government could save money by using nearby Great Lakes ports. "The quicker you can get a cargo in a ship the cheaper it is," he said.

When a railroad grants the government a reduced rate on a shipment to an east coast port, he said, the least it should do is offer a similar reduction on an alternate route to a Great Lakes port.

An Interstate Commerce Commission spokesman said the commission is also in favor of repeal of Section 22. Congress, however, has thus far, refused to take such action.

The spokesman said railroads, or other interstate carriers, do not have to grant the government special rates.

Linkletter Awaits Debut Of His Newest TV Offering

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood's happiest millionaire comes back to nighttime network television here tonight with a new series called the Art Linkletter Show. That is the final title, after concerted efforts to tag it "humanics" or some other name.

FAMOUS 'STUDENT'—School teacher Margaret Hunter, 65, Britain's notorious student driver, casts a wary look about her as she makes it to court afout in Stockport, England. Last year she was fined one pound ($1.80) for driving without a qualified driver—she frightened her driving teacher, Stanley Davenport, into jumping out and walking home. This time she drew an 18-pound jolt for running into a truck while giving herself a driving lesson solo.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood's happiest millionaire comes back to nighttime network television here tonight with a new series called the Art Linkletter Show.

That is the final title, after concerted efforts to tag it "humanics" or some other name.

"Why bother," reasoned Linkletter.

ter. "Isn't it better to let the people know what they're getting? If people tune in the Perry Como Show, they're going to get singing. If they tune in the Art Linkletter Show, they know it will be something about people."

The Canadian-born master of ceremonies has made people his business and has profited handsomely. He has parlayed his profits into a growing fortune in investments around the world. Yet he remains as stagestruck as a high school Hamlet.

"Back in 1938 and '40 when I was running around doing radio shows, I was asked if it were worth it," he recalled. "I said then that even if I were a millionaire, I'd still want to be doing what I was doing."

"Now I have to change that. Even if I had $100 million, I'd still want to do my shows."

He mused happily: "Maybe some day I'll have to revise that figure, too."

Linkletter has been doing his "Houseparty" show on radio and television five times weekly since 1944, and that would seem enough activity for any performer.

"But I hadn't been on prime time network television since 'People Are Funny' went off three years ago," he said. "That was a challenge. I didn't want to come back on just any show; I had turned down several that I didn't believe in. But this one seemed like a winner."

The Art Linkletter Show will put some new twists on the audience participation formulas. The idea is this: A movie star or expert in some field will be shown a dramatization or real-life film of some human situation. At the crucial moment the action will stop, and the guest will try to guess the outcome.

First EUB Circle 1 Meets

Circle No 1 of First EUB Church, met recently in the service center with 13 members present. Lucille Kirkwood opened the meeting by reading portions from the Quadrennial Convention. Prayers were offered by Bertha Gildersleeve and Gladys Noggle.

Roll call and minutes were read and approved. Reports of committees were then presented. Alma Alderman read an article on Christian Brotherhood. Catherine Martin urged all to attend the World Day of Prayer 2 p. m. Mar. 1 in the Episcopal Church. Dorothy Conley will represent the First EUB church during the program.

Mar. 28 will be a joint meeting of all circles at the service center with Lucille Kirkwood as program leader. A revival will be held 10-17 with the Rev. Loren Helm, Indiana, as evangelist. The Matthews brothers will be in charge of the music March 15-16-17.

Report on the progress of the reading course was given. The group was reminded to save trading stamps.

Catherine Martin was program leader with the topic, "To Know Each Other". Several scripture references were read by Alma Alderman. The group sang "More About Jesus". A discussion was held on the problems of retarded children and physically and mentally handicapped people. Suggestions were given regarding ways individuals and the church can help people with these special needs. The church's relation to parolees and the affects it had on their lives was presented.

Mrs. Orpha Kirkwood told about friends for the women prisoners and ex-prisoners and how they need rehabilitation. Closing prayers were given by Maggie Mavis and Lucille Thomas. Lucille Kirkwood sang "How Great Thou Art."

Contests were won by Catherine Martin and Maggie Mavis.

Refreshments were served by Hazel Merz and Clara Lathouse from beautifully decorated tables with a Valentine theme.

Suggestions To Modernize Your Bathroom

By ELEANOR ROSS

Not everyone can afford a major alteration job to modernize the bathroom. But even with only a little money to spend, much can be done to make the bathroom pretty as well as practical and to make use of every bit of space.

What bathroom ever has too many cabinets, for instance?

So, if you are planning additional cabinets, consider hanging cabinets that fit under the wash basin. Since they clear the floor by several inches, you can easily mop underneath them when it's time to wash and they allow foot-room which makes it possible to stand close to the basin for convenience.

While thinking in terms of extra cabinet space, consider the convenience of a built-in laundry hamper. Pull the knob and it tips open, then closes back flat with the other cabinets.

This arrangement should have the effect of inducing the family to put soiled towels where they belong, instead of strewn them around on the floor and fixtures. Seems there's at least one untidy "towel-strewer" in every family. Another suggestion is a new high-low mirror which serves as a door for the medicine cabinet. This mirror rides down or up on its special mechanism, with only finger-tip pressure.

It should encourage the smaller members of the family to practice better grooming habits, since they will be better able to see how they look. It's not too expensive, either — sells for under twenty dollars.

There are new wall heaters to keep the bathroom nice and cozy that also serve as dryers for towels and light laundry.

One of these is an all-radiant glass panel electric heater that actually adds beauty as well as comfort to the bathroom.

And how about a safety mixing valve for the shower — one which can be pre-set to make sure the water comes out of the faucet at just the right temperature? Also remember the safety and convenience of a handle-grip for the shower wall.

Even though not much money is involved in making such improvements, little things like these add up to a world of comfort.

Dance Your Way to Beauty

KNEE-BEND ROUTINE — Exercise tightens thigh muscles and firms flabby legs.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
Take up ballet for beauty and dance your way to good looks.

What does ballet do for a girl? Any number of things, says per Lisa Ackerman, 16, who has just graduated from New York's High School of Performing Arts, where her four-year course included a daily two-hour ballet lesson.

She says ballet gives a girl grace and poise and works wonders for her figure. Lisa danced her way from a size 10 to a size 3.

Among the ballet exercises she suggests to those who want to cultivate grace or improve their form are these:

To tighten thigh muscles and firm flabby legs, hold on to a sturdy chair. Stand with feet turned out, knees bent out, back and head straight. Bend at the knees as deeply as possible. At the same time, lift your free arm in a graceful arc over the head. Start with five.

To tighten calf muscles and slim the stomach and midriff area, stand with feet crossed, knees touching, hands relaxed at sides. Slowly rise on tiptoe and gradually raise arms to an overhead position. At the same time, relax the neck and let your head drop back.

This routine which is also excellent for banishing a double chin, is so relaxing that Lisa frequently breaks the tedium of washing dishes, ironing or doing other household chores by repeating it a few times.

Homemakers might take a tip from the youthful charmer and make this ballet exercise a refreshing (and beautifying) pause in the day's occupations.

Dear Abby: OK, So Animals Can Count

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the cat who won't eat meat on Friday. It's no mystery. Animals can count. If an animal is used to getting fish every seventh day, he is puzzled and uneasy if he doesn't get it. When my mother was a girl, she had a pony who knew when it was Sunday. Every other day the pony would take the road to school, but on Sundays the pony would head right for the church. Cows can count, too. Otherwise, when a herd enters the barn, no matter in which order they come in, why does each cow go to their own stall?

First EUB Circle 1 Meets

Circle No. 1 of First EUB Church, met recently in the service center with 13 members present. Lucille Kirkwood opened the meeting by reading portions from the Quadrennial Convention. Prayers were offered by Bertha Gildersleeve and Gladys Noggle.

Roll call and minutes were read and approved. Reports of committees were then presented. Alma Alderman read an article on Christian Brotherhood. Catherine Martin urged all to attend the World Day of Prayer 2 p. m. Mar. 1 in the Episcopal Church. Dorothy Conley will represent the First EUB church during the program.

Mar. 28 will be a joint meeting of all circles at the service center with Lucille Kirkwood as program leader. A revival will be March 10-17 with the Rev. Loren Helm, Indiana, as evangelist. The Matt-hais brothers will be in charge of the music March 15-16-17.

Report on the progress of the reading course was given. The group was reminded to save trading stamps.

Catherine Martin was program leader with the topic, "To Know Each Other". Several scripture references were read by Alma Alderman. The group sang "More About Jesus". A discussion was held on the problems of retarded children and physically and mentally handicapped people. Suggestions were given regarding ways individuals and the church can help people with these special needs. The church's relation to parolees and the affects it had on their lives was presented.

Mrs. Orpha Kirkwood told about friends for the women prisoners and ex-prisoners and how they need rehabilitation. Closing prayers were given by Maggie Mavis and Lucille Thomas. Lucille Kirkwood sang "How Great Thou Art."

Conquests were won by Catherine Martin and Maggie Mavis.

Refreshments were served by Hazel Merz and Clara Lathouse from beautifully decorated tables with a Valentine theme.

Suggestions To Modernize Your Bathroom

By ELEANOR ROSS

Not everyone can afford a major alteration job to modernize the bathroom. But even with only a little money to spend, much can be done to make the bathroom pretty as well as practical and to make use of every bit of space.

What bathroom ever has too many cabinets, for instance?

So, if you are planning additional cabinets, consider hanging cabinets that fit under the wash basin. Since they clear the floor by several inches, you can easily mop underneath them when it's time to wash and they allow foot-room which makes it possible to stand close to the basin for convenience.

While thinking in terms of extra cabinet space, consider the convenience of a built-in laundry hamper. Pull the knob and it tips open, then closes back flat with the other cabinets.

This arrangement should have the effect of inducing the family to put soiled towels where they belong, instead of strewn them around on the floor and fixtures. Seems there's at least one untidy "towel-strewer" in every family.

Another suggestion is a new high-low mirror which serves as a door for the medicine cabinet. This mirror rides down or up on its special mechanism, with only finger-tip pressure.

It should encourage the smaller members of the family to practice better grooming habits, since they will be better able to see how they look. It's not too expensive, either — sells for under twenty dollars.

There are new wall heaters to keep the bathroom nice and cozy that also serve as dryers for towels and light laundry.

One of these is an all-radiant glass panel electric heater that actually adds beauty as well as comfort to the bathroom.

And how about a safety mixing valve for the shower — one which can be pre-set to make sure the water comes out of the faucet at just the right temperature? Also remember the handle and convenience of a hand-grip for the shower wall.

Even though not much money is involved in making such improvements, little things like these add up to a world of comfort.

Dance Your Way to Beauty

KNEE-BEND ROUTINE — Exercise tightens thigh muscles and firms flabby legs.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Take up ballet for beauty and dance your way to good looks.

What does ballet do for a girl? Any number of things, says per Lisa Ackerman, 16, who has just graduated from New York's High School of Performing Arts, where her four-year course included a daily two-hour ballet lesson.

She says ballet gives a girl grace and poise and works wonders for her figure. Lisa danced her way from a size 10 to a size 3.

Among the ballet exercises she suggests to those who want to cultivate grace or improve their form are these:

To tighten thigh muscles and firm flabby legs, hold on to a sturdy chair. Stand with feet turned out, knees bent out, back and head straight. Bend at the knees as deeply as possible. At the same time, lift your free arm in a graceful arc over the head. Start with five.

To tighten calf muscles and slim the stomach and midriff area, stand with feet crossed, knees touching, hands relaxed at sides. Slowly rise on tiptoe and gradually raise arms to an overhead position. At the same time, relax the neck and let your head drop back.

This routine which is also excellent for banishing a double chin, is so relaxing that Lisa frequently breaks the tedium of washing dishes, ironing or doing other household chores by repeating it a few times.

Homemakers might take a tip from the youthful charmer and make this ballet exercise a refreshing (and beautifying) pause in the day's occupations.

Dear Abby: OK, So Animals Can Count

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the cat who won't eat meat on Friday. It's no mystery. Animals can count. If an animal is used to getting fish every seventh day, he is puzzled and uneasy if he doesn't get it. When my mother was a girl, she had a pony who knew when it was Sunday. Every other day the pony would take the road to school, but on Sundays the pony would head right for the church. Cows can count, too. Otherwise, when a herd enters the barn, no matter in which order they come in, why does each cow go to their own stall?

DEAR JEAN: All right, I'll agree—animals CAN count. But I am an Iowa girl who had to be told by an Illinois professor that

DEAR ABBY: As a former teacher and college dean may I add a few words to the young man whose father refused to regard D as a passing grade.

Though systems differ, D usually means "passing but unsatisfactory." A former Dean of Admissions at Harvard summed it up well. "D means 'just got by.' How would you like to eat an egg that 'just got by'?" Sincerely, John V. D. Southworth

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old son seems to be obsessed with those smutty girlie magazines (pictures of women) and I can't do anything about it. I have found them hidden under his mattress, in his closet and almost everywhere I look. I keep throwing them away, but he keeps buying more. Is this typical of a normal 15-year-old boy's behavior, or is he headed for trouble?

DEAR PALO: All normal 15-year-old boys have a normal curiosity, but your son's curiosity appears to be insatiable. He should be talked to by his father. If he has none, a mature, clean-thinking, intelligent, adult man could relieve the boy's curiosity by encouraging him to ask questions, and freely discussing his fascination with the opposite sex. Excessive preoccupation with sex can be damaging.

TIGERCATS SENIORS — Five of Circleville's seven seniors lined up for this photo in practice last week. They will be closing out the season at Wilmington Friday. Tigers Handed 9th League Loss, 68-54, by Falcons

By STEVE JONES

Circleville got off to a slow start Saturday night at Franklin Heights, and then suffered when the host team notched 21 points in the final period for a 68-54 victory.

Although the scoring was close from the field — the Falcons hit 23 field goals compared to 21 for Circleville — the winners connected on 22 of 31 charity tosses. They were able to capitalize on numerous one-and-one situations during the second half to provide the winning margin.

The Tigers, on the other hand, had almost as many initial chances

Upset Splurge Dots Weekend

Wichita Brings End To Bearcat String

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In one of the biggest upset splurges in college basketball history, the name of Dave Stallworth will be written in the biggest letters.

Stallworth fired Wichita to the surprise of surprises Saturday night—a 65-64 conquest of nationally top-ranked Cincinnati. The 6-foot-7 junior poured in an amazing 46 points, including the last seven of the game at Wichita as the Wheatshockers ended the two-time national champions' victory string at 37.

Wichita's triumph was tops in a long list of stunners. Second-ranked Loyola of Chicago got knocked off at Bowling Green, 92-75, fourth-ranked Illinois was outscored at Indiana 103-100, sixth-ranked Mississippi State was upended at Florida 73-52, seventh-ranked Colorado lost at Iowa State 73-60 and 10th-ranked Georgia Tech was ambushed at home by Louisville 78-73.

Eighth-ranked Stanford won at California 68-58 but jumped the gun on the upset spree by being nipped by the Bears on its own floor Friday night 61-60.

That left only three members of the nation's top ten who got through the harrowing weekend unscathed — third-ranked Duke, fifth-ranked Arizona State and ninth-ranked Ohio State.

Duke clinched first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference's regular season race with a 73-60 victory at home over Wake Forest. Arizona State broke its tie with Brigham Young for the Western Athletic Conference lead, romping at BYU Saturday night 104-87 as Joe Caldwell scored 32 points and Art Becker added 27.

Ohio State, gunning for its fourth straight Big Ten title, tied Illinois for first by posting a 75-68 decision at Michigan. Gary Bradts paced the Buckeyes with 34 points. Despite the loss to Wichita, Cincinnati nailed down at least a tie for the Missouri Valley title as St. Louis fell at Tulsa, 66-65. Bowling Green had Loyola all the way in dealing the Ramblers their first setback in 22 starts this season. With both Cincinnati and Loyola tripped, there are no major unbeaten left.

Auburn romped at home against Louisiana State 82-57 and joined Mississippi State at the top of the Southeastern Conference standings.

as at the foul line but couldn't hit the first chance needed to get the bonus foul. Circleville committed 19 personals while Franklin Heights was charged with 21. The Tigers hit 12 of 25 at the charity stripe.

The Falcons, looking for their second league win in 13 starts played determined ball throughout the ball game.

TREMENDOUS rebounding by Eric Hysell and John McQueen and a 22 point scoring burst by Jack Zipf were the factors in the Falcons' game.

The Tigers peppered away at the basket seven times before scoring with 3:15 on the clock. A pair of charity tosses 22 seconds earlier by George Trego gave Circleville four points, but the Red and Black was down eight before they ever chalked the first marker.

The first quarter ended 14-11 and it looked as though the Tigers might stage a rally.

But the second quarter went on fairly even terms with the Tigers tallying 14 points while Franklin Heights scored 15 and it was 29-25 at halftime.

Four steals, three of them scoring efforts, hurt Circleville in the early minutes of the second quarter. This, plus the deadly eye of Jack Zipf from the corner and the lack of accuracy at the foul line was the story of the first half deficit.

In the final period the Red and Black sank a field goal just after the action started and then went scoreless for nearly six minutes.

SIX FOUL shots and two field goals by the winners during that period put them well out front.

High point man for the Tigers was Clesson Thomas with 11 markers on four field goals and three charity tosses.

Dave Hannahs and Bob Purcell had nine each, George Trego scored seven, John Pharr and Garold Dade had six apiece, Tom Tootle had five and Dave Bass had one. McQueen was second in the

Jim Hearn Collects Baseball Golf Title

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former Giant pitcher Jim Hearn coasted to his second championship in the Baseball Player's Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 301, 21 strokes over par.

Playing the final two rounds on a soggy course in a steady drizzle, the 6-foot-3, 220-pound Hearn built up a four-stroke lead and managed to protect it, despite a final round of 78, 8-over-par.

Despite bogeys on the final three holes, Hearn nosed out Billy Herman, Boston Red Sox coach who carded a 75 for a 302 total.

Centralia Wins 69-56 in Ross Tourney Play

Buckskin Hands PV 1st Loss Administered By County Loop Team

Centralia gained a berth in the semifinals of the Ross county tournament, defeating Frankfort 69-56 Saturday, while pre-tourney favorite Paint Valley was upset by Buckskin 48-41.

Paint Valley has either won outright or shared in the county league crown for the last five years, yet the Bearcats have never won a tournament there. Last year after losing out in the county tournament, the Bearcats went on to win the district and lost to Ft. Frye in the first game of the regionals at Athens.

However, by virtue of winning the county league the Bearcats are assured of a spot in the district. Three teams go out of Ross county to the district — the league winner and the top two teams in the tourney.

The Bulldogs play again Thursday, meeting Kingston in the first game of the event.

THE LARGEST crowd ever to watch a Ross county tournament saw the Bulldogs halt Frankfort Saturday. The nearly 2,600-seat gym was filled to capacity and many spectators were turned away.

Although Bob Sigler's unit lead through most of the tilt, the game was close until midway through the final period. The Bulldogs were on top 24-17 at the end of the first period and 37-30 at halftime.

At one point in the third period Clarksburg went ahead by one point but the lead was short lived. By the three quarter mark the Centralia quintet was on top again 47-42.

The game was fairly even from the field with each team scoring 23 field goals. The winners gained their big edge at the foul line where they hit 23 of 30 attempts. Frankfort connected on only 10 of 17.

Centralia shot 37.7 per cent from the field while Frankfort connected on 28.7 per cent.

Jack Conley, Centralia's clever senior guard, headed the scoring with 25 markers. Glenn Burchwell, sophomore ace, notched 23 and Gary Miller hit 12 for the winners.

FOR FRANKFORT Bower had 16 and Ronnie Storer garnered 15 points.

A total of 14 personal fouls was called on the Bulldogs while the officials cited the Frankfort unit with 18, most of them in the final period as the losers fought to get the ball.

January Pockets Purse at Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Don January was so far out in front it must have been lonesome.

The slim, 33-year-old pro from West Covina, Calif. put together a blistering 22-under-par 266 for the 72 holes of the $25,000 Tucson Open Golf Tourney and breezed in to an 11-stroke victory Sunday.

He described his game as "just tee up and hit it, and when you find it, hit it again." But a careful look at his score card shows his game isn't quite that haphazard. For example, he had only two bogies for the four-day tourney.

January who led all the way, picked up $3,500 for his first victory of the year, $1,450 more than the winnings of defending champion Phil Rodgers and Gene Littler who tied for second.

Max Carey holds the National League record for stolen bases. His total is 738.

Dave Hannahs, Bob Purcell Rated Top Weekend Cagers

Dave Hannahs and Bob Purcell were named Circleville's top players in the Miami Trace and Franklin Heights games over the weekend.

Hannahs was accorded a plus 25 score in Friday's tilt here with the Trace Panthers, and Purcell had a grade of 36 in Saturday's game at Franklin Heights.

Hannahs grabbed ten rebounds, had one assist and one recovery and hit one of six field goal attempts.

Clesson Thomas had a score of 11, Tom Tootle eight in the tilt. Pete DeNeef and Bob Waple were the only other Tigers to finish on the positive side of the efficiency charts kept by the Circleville coaching staff.

Ralston Looks Like Star if Given Help

NEW YORK (AP)—Dennis (The Menace) Ralston is perhaps the flashiest tennis player to streak across American courts since Jack Kramer, but his success in winning back the Davis Cup depends on a sensitive trigger temper.

"This boy could be the greatest," said Gardner Mulloy after Ralston had whipped Mike Sangster of Britain 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 10-8 for the National Indoor Championship Sunday, "but he must be handled properly."

"The people who run the game almost cut his heart out when they suspended him a couple of years ago. He is an artist—very moody and temperamental—but if he can be made to believe in himself, there's no limit to where he can go."

Ralston, 20, a junior at the University of Southern California, became the youngest player ever to win the indoor title.

Unseeded, he swept through a star-spangled field that included such world-ranking stars as Roy Emerson of Australia, Manuel Santana of Spain and Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex. He beat McKinley, the United States' No. 1 ranked player, in the semifinals.

PURCELL cleared six rebounds off the boards and was three for three at the charity stripe in garnering his total Saturday.

Second high score went to Dave Hannahs with 22. Hannahs had 13 rebounds. Tom Tootle scored 14 on the charts, George Trego 12 and John Pharr six, as only five Tigers were on the plus side.

Tonight the entire Circleville varsity basketball team, along with coaches Paul Reiss and Don Neff go to St. John's Arena to watch the Ohio State basketball team in action against Michigan State.

The trip is made possible by the Circleville Booster Club.

Runner Goes 50 Miles In 5 Hours, 29 Minutes

HOUSTON (AP)—A slender, former University of Houston distance runner has hoofed the 50 miles from Galveston to Houston in a time that would have made Teddy Roosevelt proud.

John Macy ran the distance in 5 hours and 29 minutes Sunday and National Track and Field Federation officials immediately claimed a world record. There is no listed world record for the distance but in 1883 P. Golden of New York was timed at 7:29.47.

Camilo Pascual of the Twins, Dick Donovan of the Indians and Jim Kaat of the Twins turned in five American League shutouts apiece in 1962.

Retiring BeeGee Cage Pilot Out After His 500th Victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Harold (Andy) Anderson, basketball tutor de luxe, will put aside his coaching cares at the end of the current campaign.

Andy, boss of the Bowling Green Falcons, has been teaching college kids the roundball game since 1935—at Toledo and Bowling Green—and he's constructed a mighty 499-224 won-lost record over that span.

He needs a conquest tonight over Notre Dame to reach the coveted 500-victory mark — and there's a pretty good chance his bustling BeeGees will get it for him.

Andy showed all his craftsmanship Saturday as his youngsters toppled Loyola of Chicago, the nation's No. 2 team, by a rousing 92-75 score. The verdict ended Loyola's 21-game winning streak.

Bowling Green leads the rugged Mid-American Conference with a 7-3 mark just ahead of Toledo with 6-3 and they appear headed for a title deadlock since both play lower-bracket foes the rest of the way.

Bowling Green's conquest over Loyola assuaged somewhat the Ohio grief over Cincinnati's 65-64 setback at the hands of Wichita, ending the 37-game Bearcat winning streak and menacing the Queen City club's No. 1 national rating.

Ohio State, figured to be out of the race for a fourth-straight Big Ten title just a week ago, suddenly found itself today tied with Illinois for the lead at 6-2. The Bucks whipped Michigan 75-68 Saturday while Illinois was suffering its second straight loss, 103-100 at the hands of Indiana.

Ohio State has a rugged six-game route to go if it hopes to keep another NCAA date with Cincinnati. The big menaces are Minnesota (6-3) on March 4 and Indiana (5-3) on March 9, both on the foreign boards where victories are few and far between.

The Bowling Green-Toledo title

deadlock appears probable since Marshall, Kent State and Western Michigan provide the remaining menu—and that trio has a combined 7-20 record in the loop. Ohio University and Miami, each 7-4, are ready to step into the tie if the leaders falter.

Wittenberg, the nation's No. 1 smaller college team, defeated each of the other Ohio Conference clubs for a 14-0 record in the loop's first round-robin schedule—and the Springfielders go against Otterbein (0-14) Thursday as the conference tournament opens.

Wittenberg has won each of the three previous tournaments.

The Mid-Ohio race is a tight one with Defiance at 5-2 and Wilmington at 4-2. Wilmington goes against Bluffton Wednesday and could pull up even—setting the state for a championship finale with Defiance on the latter's court Saturday.

29th Redleg Signs Contract for 1963

CINCINNATI (AP)—Don Pavletich, a first baseman-catcher, has signed his 1963 contract, the Cincinnati Reds reported today.

Pavletich, the 29th Red under contract on a roster of 40, appeared in 34 games last year, chiefly as a pinch-hitter.

The Los Angeles Dodgers stole 198 bases in 1962. All but 94 were credited to speedy Maury Wills.

Tigers Handed 9th League Loss, 68-54, by Falcons

By STEVE JONES

Circleville got off to a slow start Saturday night at Franklin Heights and then suffered when the host team notched 21 points in the final period for a 68-54 victory.

Although the scoring was close from the field — the Falcons hit 23 field goals compared to 21 for Circleville — the winners connected on 22 of 31 charity tosses. They were able to capitalize on numerous one-and-one situations during the second half to provide the winning margin.

The Tigers, on the other hand, had almost as many initial chances

as at the foul line but couldn't hit the first chance needed to get the bonus foul. Circleville committed 19 personals while Franklin Heights was charged with 21. The Tigers hit 12 of 25 at the charity stripe.

The Falcons, looking for their second league win in 13 starts played determined ball throughout the game.

TREMENDOUS rebounding by Eric Hysell and John McQueen and a 22 point scoring burst by Jack Zipf were the factors in the Falcons' game.

The Tigers peppered away at the basket seven times before scoring with 3:15 on the clock. A pair of charity tosses 22 seconds earlier by George Trego gave Circleville four points, but the Red and Black was down eight before they ever chalked the first marker.

The first quarter ended 14-11 and it looked as though the Tigers might stage a rally.

But the second quarter went on fairly even terms with the Tigers tallying 14 points while Franklin Heights scored 15 and it was 29-25 at halftime.

Four steals, three of them scoring efforts, hurt Circleville in the early minutes of the second quarter. This, plus the deadly eye of Jack Zipf from the corner and the lack of accuracy at the foul line was the story of the first half deficit.

In the final period the Red and Black sank a field goal just after the action started and then went scoreless for nearly six minutes.

SIX FOUL shots and two field goals by the winners during that period put them well out front.

High point man for the Tigers was Clesson Thomas with 11 markers on four field goals and three charity tosses.

Dave Hannahs and Bob Purcell had nine each, George Trego scored seven, John Pharr and Garold Dade had six apiece, Tom Tootle had five and Dave Bass had one. McQueen was second in the

Centralia Wins 69-56 in Ross Tourney Play

Buckskin Hands PV 1st Loss Administered By County Loop Team

Centralia gained a berth in the semifinals of the Ross county tournament, defeating Frankfort 69-56 Saturday, while pre-tourney favorite Paint Valley was upset by Buckskin 48-41.

Paint Valley has either won outright or shared in the county league crown for the last five years, yet the Bearcats have never won a tournament there. Last year after losing out in the county tournament, the Bearcats went on to win the district and lost to Ft. Frye in the first game of the regionals at Athens.

However, by virtue of winning the county league the Bearcats are assured of a spot in the district. Three teams go out of Ross county to the district — the league winner and the top two teams in the tourney.

The Bulldogs play again Thursday, meeting Kingston in the first game of the event.

THE LARGEST crowd ever to watch a Ross county tournament saw the Bulldogs halt Frankfort Saturday. The nearly 2,600-seat gym was filled to capacity and many spectators were turned away.

Although Bob Sigler's unit lead through most of the tilt, the game was close until midway through the final period. The Bulldogs were on top 24-17 at the end of the first period and 37-30 at halftime.

At one point in the third period Clarksburg went ahead by one point but the lead was short lived. By the three quarter mark the Centralia quintet was on top again 47-42.

The game was fairly even from the field with each team scoring 23 field goals. The winners gained their big edge at the foul line where they hit 23 of 30 attempts. Frankfort connected on only 10 of 17.

Centralia shot 37.7 per cent from the field while Frankfort connected on 28.7 per cent.

Jack Conley, Centralia's clever senior guard, headed the scoring with 25 markers. Glenn Burchwell, sophomore ace, notched 23 and Gary Miller hit 12 for the winners.

FOR FRANKFORT Bower had 16 and Ronnie Storer garnered 15 points.

A total of 14 personal fouls was called on the Bulldogs while the officials cited the Frankfort unit with 18, most of them in the final period as the losers fought to get the ball.

Upset Splurge Dots Weekend

Wichita Brings End To Bearcat String

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In one of the biggest upset splurges in college basketball history, the name of Dave Stallworth will be written in the biggest letters.

Stallworth fired Wichita to the surprise of surprises Saturday night—a 65-64 conquest of nationally top-ranked Cincinnati. The 6-foot-7 junior poured in an amazing 46 points, including the last seven of the game at Wichita as the Wheatshockers ended the two-time national champions' victory string at 37.

Wichita's triumph was tops in a long list of stunners. Second-ranked Loyola of Chicago got knocked off at Bowling Green, 92-75, fourth-ranked Illinois was outscored at Indiana 103-100, sixth ranked Mississippi State was upended at Florida 73-52, seventh-ranked Colorado lost at Iowa State 73-60 and 10th-ranked Georgia Tech was ambushed at home by Louisville 78-73.

Eighth-ranked Stanford won at California 68-58 but jumped the gun on the upset spree by being nipped by the Bears on its own floor Friday night 61-60.

That left only three members of the nation's top ten who got through the harrowing weekend unscathed — third-ranked Duke, fifth-ranked Arizona State and ninth-ranked Ohio State.

Duke clinched first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference's regular season race with a 73-60 victory at home over Wake Forest.

Arizona State broke its tie with Brigham Young for the Western Athletic Conference lead, romping at BYU Saturday night 104-87 as Joe Caldwell scored 32 points and Art Becker added 27.

Ohio State, gunning for its fourth straight Big Ten title, tied Illinois for first by posting a 75-68 decision at Michigan. Gary Braddis paced the Buckeyes with 34 points.

Despite the loss to Wichita, Cincinnati nailed down at least a tie for the Missouri Valley title as St. Louis fell at Tulsa, 66-65.

Bowling Green had Loyola all the way in dealing the Ramblers their first setback in 22 starts this season. With both Cincinnati and Loyola tripped, there are no major unbeaten left.

Auburn romped at home against Louisiana State 82-57 and joined Mississippi State at the top of the Southeastern Conference standings.

Jim Hearn Collects Baseball Golf Title

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former Giant pitcher Jim Hearn coasted to his second championship in the Baseball Player's Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 301, 21 strokes over par.

Playing the final two rounds on a soggy course in a steady drizzle, the 6-foot-3, 220-pound Hearn built up a four-stroke lead and managed to protect it, despite a final round of 78, 8-over-par.

Despite bogeys on the final three holes, Hearn nosed out Billy Herman, Boston Red Sox coach who carded a 75 for a 302 total.

Dave Hannahs, Bob Purcell Rated Top Weekend Cagers

Dave Hannahs and Bob Purcell were named Circleville's top players in the Miami Trace and Franklin Heights games over the weekend.

Hannahs was accorded a plus 25 score in Friday's tilt here with the Trace Panthers, and Purcell had a grade of 36 in Saturday's game at Franklin Heights.

Hannahs grabbed ten rebounds, had one assist and one recovery and hit one of six field goal attempts.

Clesson Thomas had a score of 11, Tom Tootle eight in the tilt. Pete DeNeef and Bob Waple were the only other Tigers to finish on the positive side of the efficiency charts kept by the Circleville coaching staff.

PURCELL cleared six rebounds off the boards and was three for three at the charity stripe in garnering his total Saturday.

Second high score went to Dave Hannahs with 22. Hannahs had 13 rebounds. Tom Tootle scored 14 on the charts, George Trego 12 and John Pharr six, as only five Tigers were on the plus side.

Retiring BeeGee Cage Pilot Out After His 500th Victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Harold (Andy) Anderson, basketball tutor de luxe, will put aside his coaching cares at the end of the current campaign.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Monaco, some of us have always thought, is a place where younger sons of earls, usually named E. Phillips Oppenheim, casually lose everything at the gaming tables and then stroll gallantly into the Casino gardens and are never seen again.
But after Sunday night's CBS special, "A Look at Monaco," I know this is all a foolish girl's romantic dream. Monaco is really our town, governed by the folks next door.
Her Serene Highness, Princess Grace, seems to have picked up some sort of a combination British-Riviera accent during the past few years, but she is still more beautiful than any reigning Hollywood queen. She lives—apparently on a perpetual honeymoon—in a colorful little country backed by mountains, covered with white houses with red roofs and with a constant view of a blue-green sea.
The famous Monte Carlo Casino seems scarcely to exist for the princess and the prince. They're barred from the gambling joint by tradition and mostly ignore it. According to the report the princess from Philadelphia and her prince live in an old castle, raising children, visiting orphanages and admiring paintings, while husband and children visit their private zoo or skindive for rare flora and fauna for their Oceanographic Institute. S o who needs roulette and chemin de fer?
There may be a change in plans, but it looks now as if ABC's "Naked City" series is doomed at the end of this season. The police show has had thoughtful, unusual scripts and themes and has gotten away from the usual armed-man-behind-the-door cliches in favor of introspective approach to crime problems.
Recommended tonight: "Art Linkletter Show," premiere, NBC, 9:30-10 (EST)—new audience participation show.

Wittenberg '5' Is Given Soft Tourney Touch

Winless Otterbein To Be Opening Foe In Loop Playoff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Wittenberg's powerful Tigers couldn't have gotten a more favorable draw in their bid for a fourth consecutive Ohio Conference tournament championship than they got Sunday.

The Tigers, OC regular season champions with a 14-0 record and rated No. 1 nationally among the small colleges with an 18-1 overall log, are bracketed with Otterbein (0-14) Kenyon (3-10) and Marietta (5-8) for the opening rounds. They take on the Otters Thursday night in the opener of Southern Division play at Capital University in Columbus.

Ohio Wesleyan, which finished second by winning 13 regular season conference games and losing only at Wittenberg, should have it tougher in its bracket of the Southern Division.

Akron Akron (12-2) although host and favorite in the Northern Division of the tourney where eliminations start with a Friday night tripleheader and Saturday night doubleheader, also could meet stern competition.

Wesleyan's Bishops beat Capital by only 61-58 Saturday night and drew the Lutherans as their Thursday night tourney foe—on Cap's own court. On Saturday night, the winner of that one faces Friday night's Muskingum-Denison survivor after the Wittenberg-Otterbein victor plays the Kenyon-Marietta winner.

Hiram, which opens against Mount Union, and Baldwin-Wallace, which plays Wooster Friday night, figure as Akron's biggest stumbling blocks toward the championship showdown in Columbus. That comes Saturday, March 2, after division finals at each site Friday, March 1.

The tournament champion advances to the NCAA Mid-East Regional, which qualifies an entry in the national college division meet at Evansville, Ind. Wittenberg made it to Evansville the last two years and won the national crown in 1961.

HE'S THE MOST — Warren Spahn, 41-year-old southpaw has agreed to terms for the 1963 season that will make him the highest salaried pitcher in baseball, according to the Milwaukee Braves' general manager. Spahn, who has won more games, pitched more innings, hurled more shutouts and had more 20-victory seasons than any other left hander in baseball history, will set still another record when he starts his first game this year. It will mark his 19th season with the Braves. No other pitcher can make that statement.

Teays Valley Edges A-C Unit In 58-56 Game

Loss by Jonathan Alder Gives Vikings Share Of DV League Crown

The Teays Valley basketball team completed its first season of competition Saturday night with a 58-56 win at Amanda-Clearcreek that gave the Vikings a 10-5 overall record.

The Russ Gregg coached eagles saw Amanda-Clearcreek overcome a 10-point third quarter deficit to knot the game with less than 10 seconds to play. But a last second shot by Larry Leist pulled the tilt out of the fire for the visitors.

The next competition for the Vikings comes 4:30 p. m. Saturday in the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum where they meet Fairfield Union in the Central District Class AA tournament.

"They (Fairfield Union) beat us once. But we have the momentum now. Spirits are good and it's tournament time. I think we're ready to beat them," said Viking Coach Gregg.

IN THE previous tilt between the two schools Fairfield Union posted a 70-58 win on its own floor. Larry Leist and Duane Sheets teamed up Saturday to provide the offensive punch for Teays Valley with 28 points evenly divided between them.

Dan Hollenback notched 13 markers and Larry Beard hit for 11 as balance was again the keynote of the Teays Valley scoring column. Sonny Roof added six.

For the Aces, Dave Barr paced the way with 29 points on 11 field goals and seven free throws. He scored the game tying bucket in the closing seconds of the tilt.

Teays Valley hit 37.7 per cent of its attempts from the field but won the game at the charity stripe by connecting on 12 of 22. Amanda scored one more from the field, 24 goals, but had only 12 chances at the free throw line and made good on eight.

The Vikings were handed a share of the Darby Valley League crown Saturday when Greenview handed Jonathan Alder a 49-36 loss.

GREENVIEW, Jonathan Alder and Teays Valley all have 5-2 records in the loop. There will be no playoff to determine a league winner. Trophies will be given to each team.

The TV javvy unit posted a 54-39 win over the little aces with Mike Roof hitting for 15 markers. Bill Fortner and Dave Roese added 11 and 10 points respectively in the tilt.

HE'S THE MOST — Warren Spahn, 41-year-old southpaw has agreed to terms for the 1963 season that will make him the highest salaried pitcher in baseball, according to the Milwaukee Braves' general manager. Spahn, who has won more games, pitched more innings, hurled more shutouts and had more 20-victory seasons than any other left hander in baseball history, will set still another record when he starts his first game this year. It will mark his 19th season with the Braves. No other pitcher can make that statement.

Expert Says American Kids Are Frustrated by Idleness

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Millions of American children are growing up in frustration, their

U.S. Leadership

(Continued from Page 1) on behalf of Europe to make this judgment?" the President asked. "Someone has to be delegated with that authority."

"If it isn't the president of the United States it will have to be the president of France or the prime minister of Great Britain, or someone else."

His remark appears to have been more generous than practical. It does not appear to be possible that the total and final control over nuclear forces almost entirely supplied by the United States would be handed over to the chief of a foreign government.

The issue which the President therefore sharply posed is the issue of American leadership. In the present state of international affairs it is essentially the question of whether the Allies now, in changing circumstances, will accept that leadership as a more or less permanent, more or less decisive arrangement.

So long as the United States had a clear monopoly of atomic power it was in position to make its will felt not only in the military but in other fields of foreign policy.

With the postwar growth of economic prosperity in Western Europe, with the rise of Soviet nuclear weapons capacity with the development of limited nuclear power in Britain and the less advanced production of such might in France, the forces which once placed the leadership of the United States beyond contest by any of the Allies have given way to an entirely different set of policy influences.

What Kennedy seems to find frustrating and annoying and sometimes frightening is that, underlying the changes in national wellbeing and in the conditions of nuclear power, the stark facts of the power balance which really count are the same.

At this level of international relations there is still only the United States and the Soviet Union; the decisive power to survive or perish still rests in the Kremlin and the White House.

The problem is not so difficult for Soviet Premier Khrushchev because his international relations rest on a system of central control and his allies are satellites or else they break away completely.

For Kennedy the task of exerting leadership and expressing it in permanent organizations among allies is extremely complicated and sometimes very delicate.

energies blunted by a society which has nothing for them to do, an educator warned today.

Prof. Willard E. Goslin of Nashville's George Peabody College said: "We are possibly the first people in history with little or no economic use for our children, unless one considers their extensive exploitation in advertising."

Goslin told the American Association of School Administrators: "Our technological advances have rendered them (children) unneeded, if not useless. We have made matters worse by moving to town—nearly 90 per cent of us—where we have automated our kitchens and heating systems and put motors on our lawnmowers."

In his prepared speech Goslin noted that for 300 years an American youth carried in the wood at age 6, learned to plow at 12, and became a full-fledged farm hand at 16.

"Now, about the only thing we have for him to do is to go to school a few hours a day for about half the days of the year with time off for football and teachers' meetings," he said.

Goslin called for a nationwide attack on the problem. He suggested:

1. Schools should be opened 12 to 14 hours a day throughout the year with far-reaching adaptations of programs.
2. Parents should try to find work opportunities for their children instead of shielding them from it.
3. Business and labor should accept their share of the responsibility for furnishing work opportunities for youth.

Budget Slashers Eye Own Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—The vast shadow of a new House office building lies across Capitol Hill these days, and across the desks of members busily seeking ways to whittle President Kennedy's budget.

Those who pause in their pursuit of economy to look at the massive marble structure, still uncompleted, may find themselves haunted by the words of the late Rep. Russell Mack, R-Wash.

"How can any member of the House hereafter criticize the administration for extravagant spending if we ourselves vote approval of this grandiose project?" Mack asked.

Added to this spending is a pending bill by which the economy-minded solons would vote themselves an increase in salary. How grandiose is the House Office Building going to be?

When ready for use in about 18 months, the new building with its three room office suites for 169 members will have cost $83 million. The members who move into it will be getting their quarters, along with added facilities of the building, at a cost of $483,000 each.

Renovation of the present House office buildings to enlarge their two-room offices to three rooms will bring the total cost of the project to about $100 million.

Since the original aim was to provide an extra room for each of the 435 members, the taxpayers will be spending $230,000 per added office room.

It was back in 1957 when Rep. Mack asked his question about extravagant spending on the project. The new office building then was just a gleam in the eye of Speaker Sam Rayburn. A huge hole marked its site. Mack's question went unanswered. No answer was really needed after Rayburn stated firmly during the 1957 debate: "I know better than any other man in the House that we need this additional room."

Today a 10-story structure—named the Rayburn Building in honor of the late speaker and covering two city blocks—rises from the site that had only a large hole in 1957.

The building also will have a swimming pool, nine committee rooms, a cafeteria and five private dining rooms. There will be parking space for 1,600 cars.

Each suite really has a fourth room for a receptionist, and also includes two bathrooms and a built-in refrigerator. The committee rooms will rival movie palaces in elegance and space.

Once the new building is occupied the two existing office buildings will get a top-to-bottom renovation at an estimated cost of $18.5 million. Each member in these will be provided with a three-room suite.

Expansion has not been limited to the House side of the Capitol. The Senate added a second building a few years ago for $25 million, giving each senator at least five rooms, and some, seven.

The local speech on the Dutch possessions of Aruba and Curacao, in the West Indies, is Papiamentu, a musical combination of Spanish and Dutch, flavored with French, English, Portuguese and African words.

'Good Taste' Now Drawing Heavy Money

Quality Goods Demand On Increase; Public's Critical Judgment Up

NEW YORK (AP) — There's money in good taste—more now perhaps than ever before. Some say good taste is running off the mass production lines.

You can get arguments over what is the best taste. But the market for quality goods, old or new, and for all the activities loosely grouped under the term cultural, improves steadily.

Those who serve the discerning or prepare goods for persons who seek excellence are increasing in numbers and ringing up larger sales totals. Beyond this is the effort, often expensive, to improve the design and workmanship of everyday objects far removed from the strictly cultural or luxurious.

A few examples: There are more amateur musicians than golfers. More individuals go to the nation's 5,000 art museums than go fishing. Ticket sales for the theater and opera, professional and amateur, across the land have increased 50 per cent in the last five years. Book sales now top a billion dollars a year.

Not all the books are good, nor are all the shows, music, art and furniture. But the public is paying higher prices and buying more of what experts tell us is higher quality and better taste than a few decades back.

Some say the general public's critical judgment has improved. They credit the increased numbers of the young exposed to higher education, plus the 30 million enrolled for adult courses. And there is a spiraling effect: Art museums fill a demand that has sprung up around the country and in turn they lead still others to dabble in art collecting thus further increasing the need for museums and galleries.

But the biggest factor easily could be the growth of personal incomes and especially the snowballing number of families in the middle income brackets. The rich always had the wherewithal to cultivate their tastes. Now there are many times as many with something left over to spend after taking care of the essentials. And this discretionary spending cash is what the purveyors of the luxury and better taste items go after.

One field they work is industrial research and development. Manufacturers put some $12 billion a year into the search for new products or improvement of old. They employ about 750,000 in product design and patronize 1,500 independent design firms. Out of this come all degrees of taste or lack of it—but sales rivalry can sharpen the search for better taste as a talking point.

Another factor has been the invasion of American goods into the European Common Market where consumer spending has increased spectacularly. U.S. manufacturers say this often involves upgrading the design and quality of merchandise—or at least adapting it to different tastes, which Europeans consider cultivated.

They capture more of the European market in this way, the U.S. Department of Commerce has assigned a New York enterprise, the National Design Center, to set up two home furnishing trade shows in London and Frankfurt, Germany. The aim, at least, is to display only the best to foster marketing through aesthetic appeal.

Good taste sometimes seems lost in the mass of the tawdry. But its apostles insist it's gaining all the time.

PORS Urges City To Oppose Reduced Railroad Service

Circleville has been urged by the Committee for Preservation of Our Railroad Service (PORS) to oppose reduced rail service here.

A letter from PORS directed to Mayor Richard W. Penn stated that Circleville's prospects for attracting industry, or retaining expanding industries, will not be enhanced by reducing rail service. The correspondence was forwarded here by Robert E. Swert, interim chairman of PORS.

Explaining that the Pennsylvania Railroad seeks to abandon less-than-carload freight service at the Circleville station, Swert's letter urged the mayor and City Council to send a delegation to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio hearing on the issue, scheduled Mar. 28 in Columbus.

Mayor Penn today said he intends to submit Swert's letter at tomorrow night's regular Council session. There was no indication what future action may be taken on the local level.

THE HEARING originally was scheduled for Mar. 5, but later was cancelled and reassigned for Mar. 28 on request of the Pennsylvania Co. The session will open at 10 a. m. in the PUCO offices at 111 N. High St.

Swert, in his letter to Mayor Penn, said shippers need more and better rail service, not less service. "And yet, pending applications would materially reduce freight service for Circleville and 10 other stations on the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley line of the Pennsylvania," he added.

"The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads are seeking to merge into one giant, $5,400,000,000 transportation com-

Methodist Men To Prepare, Serve Dinner

The Methodist Men's Club of the First Methodist Church is making final preparations for their annual Washington's Birthday Dinner. Serving will be from 5:30-7 p. m. Wednesday.

Members of the club claim the dinner is planned and prepared entirely by them, although it was reported that Mrs. Roloff Wolford and Mrs. J. Boyd Stout were seen giving "moral support" to the male cooks.

Co-chairman Gordon Fraser and Larry Graham report that all committees are ready to prepare and serve the meal consisting of baked ham, green beans, apple sauce, baked potatoes, tossed salad, beverage and homemade cherry pie.

The public is invited to the traditional dinner to be held in the basement of the First Methodist Church.
